The Laptop Lab: Scheduled One-on-One or Small Group Computer Instruction Sessions
Replaces Internet 1, 2 & Easy Email

Computer Classes to Fit Your Needs & Schedule
Most people have the basic skills to get around on the Internet. However, many people have questions about how to use Microsoft Office Apps like Word, Publisher, and Excel, others need help accomplishing specific tasks like spreadsheets, posters, and PowerPoint Presentations. The Library’s old Internet 1, 2 and Easy Email sessions were limited to Internet searching and creating Email accounts and they were limited to one morning a week.

The Library’s new Laptop Labs sessions can help you with a range of computer difficulties and can be scheduled for a day and time that is convenient for you. One-on-one or small group sessions of up to four people are available.

Basic Internet and computer skills sessions will still be available. Individual or small group sessions make learning easier. If one one-hour session is not sufficient, more sessions can be scheduled.

For more information or to schedule a session, contact adult services librarian, John Maruskin, at 859-744-5661, ext. 110, or email john.clarkbooks@gmail.com.

The great book for you is the book that has the most to say to you at the moment when you are reading. I do not mean the book that is most instructive, but the book that feeds your spirit. And that depends on your age, your experience, your psychological and spiritual need. —Robertson Davies

Through a Lens Darkly: Black Photographers and the Emergence of a People
Wednesday, February 6, 6 PM
Through A Lens Darkly: Black Photographers and the Emergence of a People explores the history of Black photography and representation, and how contemporary artists use this material as inspiration in their visual storytelling. This documentary explores the American family photo album through the eyes of black photographers who discover images that have been suppressed, forgotten and lost. From slavery to the present, these extraordinary images unveil a world confronting the difficult edges of citizenship and what it means to be human. Intertwoven throughout are works of pioneering Black men and women photographers, whose images helped reclaim the collective self-worth and humanity of African Americans, and uncovered a rich history of contributions to the development of photography as an art form as well as a force to be reckoned with.

Bruno Chief of Police, by Martin Walker
Thursday, February 21, Noon
Meet Benoît Courrèges, aka Bruno, a policeman in a small village in the South of France. He’s a former soldier who has embraced the pleasures and slow rhythms of country life. He has a gun but never wears it; he has the power to arrest but never uses it. But then the murder of an elderly North African who fought in the French army changes all that. Now Bruno must balance his beloved routines—living in his restored shepherd’s cottage, shopping at the local market, drinking wine, strolling the countryside—with a politically delicate investigation. He’s paired with a young policewoman from Paris and the two suspect anti-immigrant militants. As they learn more about the dead man’s past, Bruno’s suspicions turn toward a more complex motive.

Some You’ll Know and Some You Won’t
Presented by Harry Enoch
Thursday, February 28, 6:15 Dinner; 7 PM Program
Local historian, Harry Enoch, probably knows the history, topography, architecture, and personalities of Clark County better than anyone. He has written specifically about Boonesborough, Howard’s Creek, Grimes Mill, Morgan’s Station, and Indian Old Fields. He has compiled an index of historic Clark County roads, turnpikes, railroads, mills, and ferries. His two-volume Where in the World? Historic People and Places in Clark County is a veritable guide book and gazetteer of this area.

Harry LOVES Clark County and for February’s Local History Potluck Dinner Program he’ll talk about some of his favorite places. (He’s even promised to present pictures and perhaps videos of an indisputable cat house in SW Clark County.) So, wrap a casseroles in a tea-towel and join fellow history aficionados for this terrific tour of Clark County.
