Book Lunch:
Death of a Doxy, by Rex Stout
Thursday, February 20, Noon
Nero Wolfe and Archie Goodwin seek to clear Teer, Orrie Cather, from a murder charge and collect a fifty thousand dollar fee from a client who must remain nameless to the public. A seemingly but not absolutely impossible task once they enlist the help of the murder victim’s best friend, nightclub singer, Julie Jacquette.
Thems that know say there are two kinds of readers: those who dig plot and those who crave character. Death of a Doxy is Wolfe-sized with both.
Books available at the circulation desk. You must register to attend by Tuesday, February 18.

Sisters of Selma
Thursday, February 20, 6 PM
An unabashedly spiritual take on the Selma voting rights marches of 1965 from some of its unsung foot soldiers - Catholic nuns. Following “Bloody Sunday,” sisters from around the country answered Dr. King’s call to join the protests in Selma. Never before in American history had avowed Catholic women made so public a political statement.
In 2003, director Jayasri Hart reunited the nuns to let them view the protests on tape for the first time. His skillfully edited archival footage documents the nun’s participation, offering an enthralling you-are-there feeling. This important documentary is a compelling testament to...putting one's faith into action. (www.amazon.com/ Sisters-Selma-Jayasri-Majumdar-Hart/dp/B000ND91ZO)

All Over the Page Book Group
The Stranger Inside, by Lisa Unger
Monday, February 24, 11 AM
A woman is forced to confront the dark secrets of her past when a serial killer strikes too close to home. Lisa Unger takes readers deep inside the minds of both perpetrator and victim, blurring the lines between right and wrong, crime and justice, and showing that sometimes people deserve what comes to them.
Books available at the circulation desk.

Local History Potluck: The Carnegie Libraries
Presented by Chris Bischoff, Regional Consulting Librarian for Northern Kentucky
Thursday, February 27, 6:15 PM Din; 7 PM Pro
Between 1883 and 1929 railroad and steel magnate, Andrew Carnegie, funded thousands of “Carnegie Libraries” worldwide, which included more than $40 million (1.2 billion today) for new library buildings in communities across America. Some of these belonged to public and university library systems, as did the library in College Park, here in Winchester. Join us for Chris Bischoff’s slide presentation and talk on these masterpieces of architecture and cultural development.
Bring a dish and join us for this interesting program; it is free and open to the public. You may also come at 6:50 PM if you would prefer not to enjoy the potluck. Either way to ensure you have a seat, call for a reservation. Call us at 744-5661 or register by using Evanced on our web site, www.clarkbooks.org.
