Pace, Christopher Jack	Christopher Jack Pace, 44, current Clark County Judge Executive and a beloved husband, father, son and brother, passed away in his hometown of Winchester on Thursday, October 14, 2021. Judge Pace was the husband of Shannon Pinkston Pace and a devoted father to two small sons, Jack and Roman, and a newborn daughter Maria. He is survived by his mother Betty Pace, a sister Donna Gail Baker (Dave) and a brother Donald Pace, Jr. (Shey). Chris was preceded in death by his father Donald W. Pace. Chris shared his life with a host of aunts, uncles, nieces, nephews, cousins and his extended family including his mother- and father-in-law Kathy and Charlie Pinkston and brother- and sister-in law Ryan and Lisa Pinkston. Judge Pace was a Christian who trusted in Jesus and strived to follow Him in every area of life. He was a member of Calvary Christian Church and was raised in his faith at First Presbyterian Church.

	The true passion of Chris' life had become raising his family in the Clark County community he loved. He enjoyed any interaction that brought him in contact with good people, good discussions and good food. He was the public address announcer for GRC volleyball matches, served as a youth soccer and Upward basketball coach, and enthusiastically served as guest host of WWKY's Mornings on Main. Pace's leadership extended to memberships on the Winchester/Clark County Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors, the Sanitation Board of Directors, the Joint Committee on EMS Contracts and Administration, the Clark County Extension District Board and the Clark County Board of Health. The Judge also became an author after he and his mom Betty published "Republican Convention Stories," in 2009. Chris was the subject of Betty's first world-wide distributed book, "Chris Gets Ear Tubes." Judge Pace served as Eastern Kentucky University Student Government President in 2000 and Northern Kentucky University Student Government President in 2004 before receiving his Juris Doctor degree from Chase College of Law. Pace was a 1995 graduate of George Rogers Clark High School and was a manager of the 1991 State Champion Clark County football team. He began his legal career working with Dixon and Juett in 2005. In 2018, Pace defeating a three-term incumbent to become Clark County Judge Executive. During his tenure as Judge Executive, Pace was true to his promise of returning tax money to Clark Countians. Six fiscal court taxes were cut during his three years in office. In August 2021, his fiscal court lowered the county government tax rate by over five percent, the largest single year tax cut ever recorded under the modern taxing structure. He also fought for and was awarded $481,000 for road funding--the largest single allotment in Clark County history. Funeral services will be held at 12:45 p.m. Wednesday, October 20, 2021, at Calvary Christian Church, 15 Redwing Drive in Winchester, with Pastor Mike McCormick, Representative Ryan Dotson and Pastor Brock Carlile officiating. Burial will follow in the Winchester Cemetery. Friends, family members and work colleagues will be sharing their best stories. Visitation will be held prior to the service beginning at 10:30 a.m. Pallbearers include Brandon Barger, Nick Bertram, Dave Baker, TJ Hall, Jason Jones, Patrick Melton, Matthew Melton, Lane Mynk, Andrew Pace, Ernest Pasley, Ryan Pinkston, and Ritchie Rednour. Honorary pallbearers include Chris' cousins and uncles and dear friends Paul Beck, David Bradley, DoddDixon, Joe Myers, James Pollitt and Joel Terry as well as members of the Clark County Republican Party, Rotary Club of Winchester, Clark County Minister's Association, Clark County Fiscal Court personnel and his "Friends in the Courthouse." Memorial donations may be made to the charity of your choice or to New Beginnings Pregnancy and Parenting Care Center of Winchester or Upward Basketball. Chris loved life, he loved his friends, he loved Clark County and he especially loved his family. The darkness in our souls now will only be taken away by the light he was and the continuing guiding light he shines for all of us. We know he is destined for eternity and we long to see him there. The Winchester Sun October 19, 2021

Pace, Donald Wayne	Donald Wayne Pace, 76, husband of Betty Barger Pace, passed away on Monday, September 26, 2016. He spent 55 years doing everything possible to ensure a better education for the girls and boys of Kentucky. Mr. Pace was a devoted father to Donna

Gail Melton, Donald Pace Jr. (Shey) and Chris Pace (Shannon); and a loving brother to Arthur Grant (AG) Pace.

The true passion of his life had become his grandchildren Patrick and Matthew Melton, and Ella, Will, Logan and Jack Pace. His greatest joy came from attending their sports events. He never missed a school program, graduation, or a birthday celebration. Mr. Pace was born in Harlan on February 20, 1940, to the late Ulysses Grant and Mary Wesley Pace. He is also survived by his aunt Anna Faye Bartle and several nieces, nephews and cousins. He began teaching in 1958 at the age of 18 in Harlan County. In 1961-1965, he taught and coached basketball at Liberty Union Junior High School in Butler County, Ohio. He returned to Kentucky in 1965 to serve as principal of Walton-Verona Elementary School and Assistant Principal at Walton-Verona High School. Mr. Pace was currently serving as superintendent of Lewis County Schools and had previously served superintendencies in Montgomery, Mason, and Campbell counties. Most of his education career included service to Clark County Schools where he was superintendent 1984-1999; Conkwright Junior High principal 1969-1984; principal at Belmont Junior High in 1968, and principal at Fannie Bush Elementary in 1967. Family will receive friends from 11 a.m. – 2 p.m. on Saturday, October 1, 2016, at Conkwright Elementary School, 360 Mt. Sterling Road, in Winchester. A Celebration of Life service will be held at 2 p.m., with Pastor Lee Cruse officiating. Former students, teachers, principals, colleagues, and friends are asked to join the family in celebrating his life. Pallbearers will be Don Burgess, John Gaines, Lee Taylor, Bob Berryman, Robert Lee, Joe Jones, Carl Hensley, Jackie McCloud, Bill Neismith, John Graybill, Joel Terry, Andrew Pace, JC Burton, Shane Burton, Jeff Burton and Von Barger. Honorary pallbearers will be Clark County Retired School Administrators, 1984-1999 Clark County Board of Education Members; Clark County Schools Central Office Staff; 1969-1984 staff of Conkwright Junior High School; current members of Kentucky Retired Teachers Executive and Insurance Committees; current members of the Kentucky Schools Facility Commission; Winchester Kiwanis Club members, and Right Angle Masonic Lodge 233 members. The Donald Pace Youth Scholarship has been established in his honor at Kentucky Bank, 24 West Lexington Ave., Winchester.

Pace remembered as passionate educator

Ask anyone who knew former Clark County Schools superintendent and principal Don Pace what he was like and the answer will boil down to the same statement: he cared about kids. Pace, 76, died Monday after a 55-year career in education. Services for Pace will be at 2 p.m. Saturday at Conkwright Elementary School, following a visitation at the school beginning at 11 a.m. Pace's son, Chris Pace, said the location of the funeral is significant because his father served as the first principal for the school after it opened. Chris Pace, along with his brother Don Jr. and sister Donna Melton, said the three of them spent much of their time as children in the school. "I grew up in that school," Melton said. "I knew every crack and crevice." Melton said she thinks it is impossible to describe her father as a parent without including his life as an educator. In fact, she said the Clark County school district was very much like an extension of the Pace family. Retired teacher Anna Bruce Kostelnik said she felt those bonds as well. As a Clark County native, Kostelnik literally grew up with Pace, who served as the principal of her school when she was going through grade school, and was her principal and superintendent after she graduated from college and returned to the district as a teacher. "I have been with Mr. Pace my whole life," Kostelnik said. "And I taught his children." She described Pace as a very respected, very diligent but pleasant man, who held his employees to high standards but worked right alongside them every chance he got. Kostelnik said during his time as principal, Pace would spend the end of every school day visiting every room of the school and checking the work of the teachers and staff, praising those who maintained high standards throughout the day and offering suggestions for improvement to those who he thought fell behind. However, both his children and colleagues said Pace's insistence on high standards was motivated by one thing: a drive to ensure the children of the district received the best education possible. Retired district administrator Joe Jones said Pace was not afraid to put his own reputation on the line to accomplish his goal as well. Some of Pace's most notable accomplishments dug in his time as superintendent of Clark County Schools included the rebuilding of Trapp Elementary School after it burned down. He also oversaw the building of Clark Middle School and the George Rogers Clark football stadium. "The thing I remember about him most was that he would make a decision, he didn't ride the fence," Jones said. "He was focussed on what was best for the kids. You might not have always liked his decision, but he stuck to it."

Jones said Pace was not afraid to do what he thought was right, even in the face of political repercussions. He said that skill, as well as the frugality he became known for across the state, largely contributed to his later work seeing as interim superintendent in several other counties. "He could make decisions that needed to be made," Jones said. As a family man, Chris Pace and Melton said their father was devoted to his children and grandchildren, even when he was working. "He never missed a ball game," Chris Pace said. "He drove me to and from football practice every day when I was little, and often times we'd stop at the old dairy queen on the bypass for a blizzard." "He would even go to T-ball games," Melton added. "Because that was what was most important to him." Melton said Pace and his wife Betty knew what it was like to struggle, both of them coming from the mountains of Eastern Kentucky and living for a while in a trailer park trying to make ends meet. She said when he finally got his chance, her father worked tirelessly to make sure his children and grandchildren could have whatever they

	needed. "They (the grandchildren) never want for anything," Melton said. But time with family was important to Pace as well. Chris Pace said one year when he was running for a political office, his father took the summer off to drive him around the county campaigning. "That was my summer with my dad," Chris Pace said. "He stopped everything he was doing for months just to be my personal chauffeur." Chris Pace and Melton said their fathers' passing came as a shock to all of them, and they will miss him dearly. "He was a great dad and the best pappaw a kid could ever have," Chris Pace said. "Last but not least, we loved him very, very much." A complete obituary for Pace can be found A2. The Winchester Sun September 29, 2016

She was a mentor, friend and loved by many. She attributes her independent nature to her father's advice to her and her siblings, "He always told us we had to be able to take care of ourselves." A private service will be held at a later date. In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to Bluegrass Hospice Care, 1733 Harrodsburg Road, Lexington, Kentucky 40504 or to God's Pantry Food Bank, 1685 Jaggie Fox Way, Lexington, Kentucky 40511. The Winchester Sun January 31, 2023
Pace, Prewitt Lane	Prewitt Lane Pace, 87, Dawsonville, GA, died Sept. 2, 2023. Prewitt was born to the late Vivian and Roger Pace on May 15, 1936, in Clark County, Kentucky. Prewitt worked the family farm, joined Army ROTC and earned a bachelor's degree from Eastern Kentucky University in 1958. Following graduation, Prewitt joined the US Army, where he progressed through many roles over 20 years before retiring as a Lieutenant Colonel. Prewitt married Peggy Parker in 1960 and traveled the globe as an officer of the US Army. Prewitt was stationed at many locations, including Hawaii and Texas, where his two children were born. Prewitt's final assignment was at Macdill Air Force Base in Tampa, Florida. Following his retirement from the military, Prewitt joined Dean Witter Reynolds in Saint Petersburg as a Vice President. Prewitt and Peggy were long time residents of the waterfront community of Venetian Isles, where they raised their family and were active in the community. Following Peggy's passing in 2021, Prewitt moved to Georgia to be close to family. Prewitt is survived by his children, Karen (Rick) Purcell, Robert (Ellen) Pace, three grandchildren, and two sisters, Barbara and Linda. Prewitt's wife Peggy and his sister Peggy recently passed. Prewitt's life will be celebrated on Sept. 4, 2023, in a private family ceremony. Paducah Battle	The Paducah Battle. The Thirty-Eighth anniversary of the Eventful Day. Paducah, Ky., March 25.—Monday was the thirty-eighth anniversary of the most eventful day in the history of Paducah. On March 24, 1864 about 4 p. m. the battle of Paducah was fought. Gen. Forrest's command, including hundreds of young confederates from this immediate section, many of them Paducans made a raid into Paducah and after driving in the federal pickets, two regiments attacked Ft. Anderson, where the union troops were quartered. The killed and wounded on both sides were about thirty men. The most serious loss was the death of Col. A. P. Thompson, of this city commanding the 3 rd . Kentucky. Several other Paducah soldiers among the confederates were killed and wounded. Ex-Sheriff Wade, of Marshall county, who participated in the attack, came here especially to spend the day at the scene of the old fort. The Winchester Democrat, Friday, March 28, 1902

Palmer, Andy	A Queer Funeral Service The Funeral on Jett's Creek, in this county, the 5th, 6th and 7th inst., was in some respects the most remarkable on record. Ezekiel Johnson, a boy 13 years old, son of Esq., Elisha Johnson, also a minister in the Baptist church, was corrected by his father the 9th of April, 1889, and was sent to the field to plow in oats. In about an hour his father missed him and went in search of his son and found him suspended by the neck from a leaning tree on the mountain side outside of the field, dead. Friday, the 5th inst., the funeral of the boy was preached on the mountain side where the boy hanged himself. The father had the clothes which his son wore when he hung himself stuffed with straw, with the hat and shoes on, making the effigy look everything like the boy. This effigy was hung from the same tree by the same rope on which the boy hung. In the presence of this spectacle the ministers conducted religious services on Friday. About three hundred yards from this is the grave of the boy, over the grave is a little house built, and upon this house was stretched a canvas upon which was written in large letters a conversation the boy had with his sisters the day before he committed suicide. Among other things he wished Revs. Miller and Taylor to preach his funeral and his sisters to come of evenings and sing at his grave. Saturday and Sunday the services were conducted in the bottom four of five hundred yards from the scene of the hanging. The crowds were large each day, but on Sunday there were 1,500 people present. Such as assembly had never before convened in Breathitt county. Just at the close of the third day's service the affray occurred in which Andy Palmer was shot and killed.—Jackson Hustler. The Winchester Democrat, Wednesday, October 8, 1890
Palmer, Annie	Ate the Tablets Annie Palmer, the two year old daughter of Mrs. J.T. Palmer, of Hopkinsville, ate some strychnine tablets while on a visit with her mother to her sister, Mrs. McCormick, near Lancaster, last week. Palmer, W.P.	Dr. W.P. Palmer, one of the best known of the Virginian antiquarians and an accomplished writer, is dead. On the evening of the day President Cleveland sent to Congress his Venezuelan message, Dr. Palmer visited his rector, Rev. D. Gravatte. They were discussing the message and the doctor became excited and condemned in strong terms the President's utterances. He suddenly lost all power of speech and had to be removed to a hospital and has been sick ever since. He never recovered his faculty of speech. The Winchester Democrat, Friday, March 6, 1896

Parker, Montgomery		THE PARKER CASE. About thirty years ago two boys from this county went to Fayette county in search of work. One was named Wills and the other McDonalds. They secured a job cutting corn for a man by the name of Montgomery Parker who lived about five miles east of Lexington. Parker's reputation was not good. It was said that he was formerly an overseer and domineered over his hands and did not pay promptly. The boys went to work in the forenoon and Parker went to Lexington. In the afternoon someone told the boys of Parker's reputation when they became alarmed and decided to return home without waiting for Parker to come back. One of them carried away a corn knife which was of less value than the work they had done. A yellow dog that belonged to Parker followed them, though the evidence showed that they tried to drive it back. When Parker returned and found the boys gone he was in great rage and started after them on his horse. When they saw him coming at a point where the Pine Grove Station pike connects with the Winchester and Lexington pike about eight miles west of this city the boys left the pike and ran through a field. Parker went through an opening in the fence and continued the pursuit. The boys found that they could not escape Parker being nearly up to them. They threw up their hands having in the meantime dropped the corn knife. At this moment Parker fired a pistol which he carried in his hand and the Wills boy fell dead. Parker claimed that his horse shield and the pistol went off accidentally. He was indicted in Fayette county. The family had plenty of money and a strong defense was made. On a change of venue the case was transferred to Woodford county. In the first trial there was a hung jury. It was said that one man on the jury stood out for acquittal. This man became so unpopular that in a few years he left the county. At the second trial Parker was found guilty and sentenced to twenty years in the penitentiary. Every effort known to the law was without avail and Parker was finally carried to the prison at Frankfort. The same spirit that had manifested itself in his life continued with him in prison. He could not be conquered. All the punishments known to the rules were applied to him without effect. One morning he was found dead in his cell. His friends claimed that he was whipped to death, but the prison officials maintained that he died from poisoning. The Sun-Sentinel, Thursday, December 3, 1903.

Parks, Bonnie Ella Little		Bonnie Ella Little Parks, 94, of Winchester, passed away peacefully at Baptist Health Hospital in Lexington, Kentucky on Wednesday, August 30, 2023. She was surrounded by her loving family. Bonnie was born on December 19, 1928, in Campton, Kentucky. She was the daughter of the late Samuel Taylor and Lula Pence Little. She was the eleventh of twelve children. She was a member of the Liberty Bible Church of God in Winchester. She worked for Rockwell International and later retired from Wal-Mart. She grew up in the mountains of Kentucky, in a small town called Pence Branch. She loved to take long walks, ride (Tony) horses, and cuddle up with a delightful book to read. As a young girl she gave her life to the Lord and remained faithful and was his servant to the end. She was a strong prayer warrior, faithfully administering God's grace in its various forms. One of her fondest memories was taking a trip to the Holy Land with her church family, brother, Bill Constanopolis, and being baptized in the Jordan River. Bonnie was preceded in death by her late husband, Aldo Parks; son, Garry Lee Parks; daughter, Linda Parks Dicken; grandson, Gary Lee Parks Jr; granddaughter, Buffy Ann Perkins; six brothers, Bill, Elzie, Joe, Fred, Russell, Samuel (Brownie) Little; sisters, Helen Murray, Ruby Botts, and Edna Trent. Bonnie was married to Al Parks after graduating high school. She was blessed, according to her, with 12 wonderful children. Her life was for her children, and she was a devoted mother who sacrificed and worked endlessly to provide care for them. As her children grew up and had children of their own it brought a new joy into Bonnie's life. She loved each and every one of them. She especially loved special times and holidays when it would bring everyone together. Her infamous dressing will always be fondly remembered. Her greatest passion was spending time with her family. It was truly admirable how dedicated she was to her family. Her love had no bounds. Bonnie is survived by her children, Clifford Parks, Mary Lou Parks, Al Parks Jr (Penny), Teresa Wessling, Vickie Ramsey (Bill), Kenneth Parks, Barbara Crews (Mike), Gina Johnson (Ricky), Kim Lyons (Clay), Melissa Parks; 27 grandchildren, 29 great grandchildren, 7 great great grandchildren, one sister, Bessie Pence as well as several nieces and nephews. Service will be held at 11:00AM, Wednesday, September 6, 2023, at the Liberty Bible Church of God. Burial to follow in Clarmont Memorial Gardens. Pallbearers will be Clifford Parks, Kenneth Parks, Bill Ramsey, Mark Dicken, Jonathan Ferrell, and Braxton Henderson. The honorary pallbearer will be Al Parks Jr. Visitation will be from 5:00pm-8:00pm on Tuesday, September 5, 2023, at Scobee

Parrish, H. S.	Resolutions of Respect At a called meeting of the County Court held in the County Court room on the 2d day of March, 1892, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted: WHEREAS, It hath pleased the Divine Ruler of the Universe to remove from our midst our respected brother magistrate, H. S. Parrish, therefore bent. Resolved: That while we would bow with submission to the dispensation of Divine Providence, yet the grief and sorrow of this sad event occasions is none the less felt by us; that our departed fellow citizen and honored brother fulfilled well his duties in all the relations of life. As a citizen he was respected by all; in his family relations he was loving and kind; as a public official he was just and faithful, and discriminated well between rights of the citizen and the public welfare. "Tis in this last relation that we knew only brother best, and in all his public duties he never swerved from the path in which duty and fidelity led him. We would commend his surviving widow to the mercy of the same God, whose hand sent the stroke, realizing that he alone can give that consolation that will sustain her in this sad hour of her bereavement. Resolved. That these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this Court, and that THE WINCHESTER DEMOCRAT and Winchester SUN be requested to publish same. J. N. CONKWRIGT J. M. RAINEY S. e. REED A copy attest: Jos. B. RAMSEY, Clerk. AT a regular meeting of Hickman Lodge, No. 72, I. O. O. F., on Monday evening, March 7, the following resolutions ere adopted: WEHEREAS, God in his infinite wisdom has been fit to remove from our midst Brother H. S. Parrish; now: BE it Resolved, 1. That in his death the community has lost an upright, honorable man, an efficient officer and a most public spirited citizen. 2. That Hickman Lodge No. 72, I. O. O. F., has lost a most worthy and faithful member and one who for many years has been untiring in his zeal and fidelity to the principles of friendship, love and truth, as taught by our beloved order. 3. That we extend the heartfelt sympathy of the lodge to the bereaved widow in her sore affliction. 4. That these resolutions be published in the: Winchester papers, and a copy of same, under the seal of the lodge, be presented to the deceased's widow. F. P. Pendleton W. A. Attersall R. R. Perry Committee The Democrat, Wednesday, February 24, 1892. Capt. H. S. Parrish died suddenly at his home Monday night. He was sitting in his chair

	and was feeling better than usual when suddenly his hand fell over on his breast and he was dead. He had long been one of the most prominent men of the county, being at the time of this death a member of the County Board of Magistrates. He was during the war, Captain of Company A. 20th Ky. Federal Infantry, Col. Sanders Bruce's regiment. Tucker Reckner was first Lieutenant and W. A. Attersall second Lieutenant. Owing to ill health Capt. Parrish resigned before the close of the war, and came home. Mr. Attersall is now the only surviving officer of the Company, Capt. Parrish was at one time one of the State officers the Knights of Honor and was also a prominent member of the Independent Order of Old Fellow, with the honors of which order he will be buried to-day at 10 o'clock, A. M., Rev. I. J. Spencer, officiating, Capt. Parrish was twice married. His first wife was Miss Ellen Turnbull who died several years ago. He second wife, who survives him was Miss Ella Quisenberry. Parrish, J. W.	Full of years and honors Winchester's widely known and oldest merchant passes away By the death of Mr. J.W. Parrish, which occurred at his home, on South Main Street, Tuesday night, one of the links which bind us to the past was severed. He was born in Madison county nearly eighty-eight years ago, but came to Winchester in his early manhood and had been a part of the growth and development of the city ever since, modestly shrinking from making him self conspicuous, yet he was always in favor of a progressive policy for the town of his adoption. He fulfilled the idea of the great poet, Bryant, in that he never seemed to grow old and at the time of his death, he was eighty-eight years young. He was a member of the Fire Department and of the Odd Fellows, and was enthusiastic in their support. For fifty years he has been Treasurer of Hickman Lodge of Odd Fellows and was a constant attendant on its meetings. He was also Treasurer of the Fire Department. In early life he learned the cabinet makers trade, but when the introduction of factory goods supplanted handwork he went into the grocery business and his store has been a land mark in Winchester for more than half a century. For a number of years his son, Charles, has been associated with him in the business. Mr. Parrish was twice married. His first wife was Mrs. Robinson, who was originally Miss Berry. After her death he married Miss Julia Williams who survives him, as do four children, Charles, Mrs. Richard French, Mrs. Lizzie Dudley and Miss Nannie Parrish. Also one brother, Christopher, and one sister, Mrs. I.N. Massie, both of this city. The funeral took place from the family residence on South Main Street yesterday

	at two o'clock p.m., short services being conducted by Rev. J.W. Harding and Dr. J.L. Weber, and the burial was in the Winchester cemetery under the auspices of Hickman Lodge No.72 of Odd Fellows. The Fire Department attended in a body. The pall bearers were his four grandsons, Messrs. F.H. Dudley, Willaim P. Dudley, J.H. French, William P. French, and two nephews, Messrs. W.S. Massie and J.R. Parrish. Many handsome floral designs were sent by loving friends, notable among them being elegant pieces from Hickman Lodge of Odd Fellows, the Winchester Fire Department, and the Winchester Cemetery Co., of which he was the efficient President. His long life was one of usefulness and he enjoyed the esteem and admiration of all who knew him. Ever courteous and gentle, his many acts of kindness will be long remembered. The Winchester Democrat, Friday, December 7, 1906 Resolutions of Respect At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Winchester Cemetery Company held December 5, 1906, the following resolutions were adopted: "This board has heard with profound regret of the death of J.W. Parrish, who has for so many years been President of our company. He was one of the Charter members and has always taken the deepest interest in its affairs. The City of Winchester has had no more upright citizen and no man in the community has more endeared himself to a large circle of friends by reason of his honesty, kindness of heart, purity of character and faithful devotion to all the obligations of life as husband, father, citizen and friend. He has set an example worthy of imitations and has certainly placed this company under the deepest obligations by the interest he has taken in its affairs. He has lived a life beyond the allotted span and filled with good deeds and leaves behind a character of which all connected with him may well be proud." J.D. Simpson, W.M. Beckner, A.H. Hampton, T.C. Robinson, W. Miller, and W.H. Garner, Directors. The following resolutions were passed by the Winchester Fire Department: Whereas, Mr. J.W. Parrish, who having been a valued member of this department since its formation, and having held the responsible position as Treasurer of the Department for many years, having died, therefore be it: Resolved, that in the death of Mr. Parrish the Department has lost one of its oldest and most faithful members, efficient officer and truest friend. 2nd. That this department hereby tenders its sincere sympathy to the family of Mr. Parrish in their bereavement. 3rd. That as many of the department as can do so will attend the funeral in body. 4th That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the men of the county papers and spread upon the minutes of the department. 5th. That the engine be draped in mourning for thirty days after the passage of these resolutions. A.S. Reese, Walter Bean and W.C. Fitch Committee The Winchester Democrat, Friday, December 7, 1906 Will probated The will of J.W. Parrish dated Aug. 9th, 1904, gives his property for life to his wife, Julia Parrish, after her death three-fifths was to go to Miss Nannie Parrish and two-fifths to Mrs. Lizzie Dudley, daughters of testator. Nothing was left to his son, Charles or daughter, Mrs. Richard French as the will recites they had already received more than their share. By a codicil it is directed that two notes, one $2600 and one $1300 be paid out of the estate. Miss Nannie Parrish is name as executrix. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, December 25, 1906

Parrish, Lutie	At a called meeting of the members of “Alberti” and “Martin” Lodges, held in their hall on the morning of October 14 th , 1871, a committee of six was appointed to meet at the residence of J.W. Martin, Esq, and draft suitable resolutions on the death of Miss Lutie Parrish, a member of “Alberti” Lodge. The following preambles and resolutions were adopted: Whereas, It has pleased Almighty God in his infinite wisdom and love to summon into His august presence our beloved Sister, Miss Lutie Parrish, and Whereas, In the death of Sister Parrish, “Alberti” Lodge has lost one of its truest members, home one of its dearest trusties, and society one of its brightest ornaments, therefore be it. Resolved, That we most sincerely and deeply deplore our great loss, but humbly resign to the will of Him who so loved the world as to give HIS dear Son in sacrifice therefore. Resolved, That in the death of Sister Parrish the Order of Good Templars has sustained an irreplaceable loss. Resolved, That we cheerfully acknowledge in her purity of character and loveliness of disposition an example worthy of our imitation. Resolved, That we tender to the bereaved members of her family our heartfelt condolence in their truly great loss, and in their moments of sadness and grief would point them away and up to that beautiful abode up high for sure consideration. Resolved, That the “Charters” of our Lodges be draped in mourning and that the officers and members of each wear the usual badges of mourning for twenty days as a token of their respect for the lamented deceased. Resolved, That a copy of these preambles and resolutions be furnished to the bereaved family, and that they also be sent to the offices of the “Clark County Democrat” and “Good Templar Advocate,” with a request that they be published in their respective papers. Mrs. Lizzie Alberti, Mrs. Mollie Allen, Mrs. Lizzie Clinkinbeard, J.W. Martin, B.F. Allen and L.G. Lawler, Committee. The Clark County Democrat, Thursday, October 19, 1871

Parrish, Mrs. Julia		Mrs. Julia Parrish Death of this most estimable lady Thursday evening Mrs. Julia Parrish, widow of the late J.W. Parrish died at her home on Main street Thursday night in the seventy-ninth year of her age. Death was due to a complication of diseases and the infirmities incident to old age. Just a few days before, her beloved consort passed away. Year by year, as they glided gently down the stream of life they became, as it were, truly one, and in his departure, her companion for so many years, the strongest tie binding her to life was severed, and joyfully her spirit fled to join his in the life beyond. A gentle, kind, Christian woman, she lived not alone for the present but regarded this world as merely preliminary to another and a higher condition. Her oft expressed desire was to so live that when the summons came she would be ready. Such a life she lived and her death was but the gathering of a ripened sheaf into the garner of the Master. She was unselfish and untiring in her devotion to her family and friends, and those in sorrow or distress found comfort in her tender and sympathetic nature. Before her marriage she was Miss Williams and had spent her long and useful life in this city. She leaves four children, Mrs. Richard French, Mrs. Lizzie Dudley, Miss Nannie Parrish and Mr. Charles Parrish. The funeral was preached at the Methodist Church Saturday morning by Rev. J.L. Weber and the remains were buried in the Winchester cemetery. The pall bearers were her four grandsons, Messrs. F.H. Dudley,

	J.H. French, Wm. P. Dudley, Wm. P. French, and two nephews, Wm. S. Massie and John D. Parrish, the same having acted in that capacity at the funeral of Mr. Parrish a few days ago. Honorary pall bearers were Messrs. B.F. Curtis, T.C. Robinson, Dr. J.C. Vaught, Dr. I.H. McKinley, Dr. W.W. Justice, and J.W. Poynter. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, December 18, 1906

Parsons, son	A SAD accident occurred on Mt. Abbott which resulted in the death of a little son of Chas. H. Parsons Saturday. Another child of the family had been suffering from a severe pain in the ear and a solution of morphine had been prepared to put in the suffering ear to relieve the pain. A little boy about two years old got hold of the poison Friday night and drank it. All that was possible was done, but the little fellow lingered until Saturday when death relieved him. Patrick, Jake T.	Jack Patrick dead Mr. J.T. Patrick, of Magoffin county, one of the best known men in Eastern Kentucky, was suddenly stricken while at his post of duty in the revenue service at Tyrone, Anderson county last week and expired in a few minutes. He was a member of the Masonic order and had many friends throughout the State. He was a brother of Mrs. R.M. Millard, formerly of this city. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, March 8, 1910

	Action too late A strange coincidence attended the death of Jake Patrick, of Magoffin county, a notice of whose death appeared in our last issue. While engaged in his duties in the Internal Revenue Service several years ago he was thrown from a horse and very badly hurt, one side being paralyzed. It was felt that the circumstances justified his being allowed one year's salary and Congressman Langley introduced a bill to that effect which would have passed the House in a short while. A few moments after the bill had been reported his death was announced. Another case similar in many respects, was that of Capt. John H. McBrayer, the Anderson county, Kentucky distiller, who died on Friday, the same day Representative Johnson secured the passage of a bill relieving him of the payment of $20,000. The Winchester Democrat, Friday, March 11, 1910

Patrick, Robin	A special from Salyersville of Wednesday says: "In a free-for-all fight at Hendrix, four miles from this place Friday, Joseph Higgins shot and killed Robin Patrick, the ball cutting the jugular vein. In the same fight, Daniel B. Greene, ex-County Assessor, lost an ear from a pistol shot and Elijah Dungan was knocked down with a rock and perhaps fatally wounded. The trouble arose at a Republican primary election for the officers of Sheriff and Circuit Clerk. Warrants have been issued charging Joseph Higgins, Samuel Patton and D. B. Greene with murder, but no arrests have been made. The Winchester Democrat, Wed., 6-1-1892
Patrick, Ronnie	Bodies removed Some months ago a family named Patrick moved to this county from Morgan county and located east of this city. Almost immediately after their arrival a malignant fever broke out in the family and soon the whole family was prostrated. Two of the boys, Ronnie and Hicks, died, and their remains were buried at Grassy Lick. A few days ago Mr. Patrick bought a lot in the Winchester cemetery and moved the bodies from Grassy Lick to this city. The Winchester Democrat Tuesday, April 5, 1910
Patrick, Ruben	It is with sadness that we note the death of this grand old man, at his home in Magoffin county. He had the distinction of capturing a cannon from the Confederates during the war by his own efforts. He turned it over to the government, but it was afterward returned to him by act of Congress, as we remember it. He was well known all over eastern Kentucky and no man stood higher. We hope that some friend will give us the story of his life. The Winchester Sentinel, Wed., Oct. 22, 1902

Patrick, William Butler (Billy)	The Winchester Sun Wed., 7-24-1957 Two Deaths Here Held As Accidents Coroner James W. Bean today handed down decisions in the recent deaths of two persons in the Boonesboro area. The coroner said that it had been decided that Don Neal, 82-year-old farmer of the Athens Boonesboro-Road, died as the result of a fall over a cliff. The death of William Butler Patrick, 19, Mt. Sterling, was attributed to accidental drowning in the Kentucky River. Bodies of the two were found on July 23. Each had been missing from his home three days. The scene of the two accidents were approximately one mile apart. Coroner Bean said investigations of the two cases had been made by state and local officials. Young Patrick's body was found floating under the Boonesboro Memorial Bridge along the Madison County bank. However, the case was turned over to the Clark County coroner when Patrick's car was found abandoned on the Clark side of the river, and officers concluded it was possible that death occurred within the bounds of the county. The body of Neal was found on a hillside near the Athens-Boonesboro Road. THE WINCHESTER SUN. 8/8/1957

Patton, Charley	AA	Charley Patton, Of Color This venerable colored man passed away last week having nearly reached the century mark, being ninety-seven years old. He was born the slave of James Patton, who lived on Stoner Creek in Clark county, who manumitted him in his young manhood. Uncle Charley Patton, as he was called, lived all his life in this county and died leaving an honest name. For many years he played the fiddle for picnics, dances and parties, to the great delight and satisfaction of the devotees of the fascinating art of dancing. It was edifying to hear him prompt gentlemen who tripped the light fantastic toe in the

	cotillions and reels at balls and parties, where dancing was given and where he played the violin. He was esteemed for his rare integrity and good deportment. Patton, Thomas	A puzzling case Twenty-two years ago Alex McFarland killed Thomas Patton in Magoffin county. Since then Reese Patton a son of the murdered man, has been searching for the murderer who escaped at the time. Last week a man living in Virginia known as Press Cotter, was arrested and taken to Salyersville as McFarland. Quite a number recognized him and the case seemed complete. This week it has been conclusively established that he has always been Cotter and is the wrong man. The officers are puzzled. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, November 2, 1909

Paul, Donna Marie	2 Children Drown At Jackson's Ferry Two Lexington Children drowned in the Kentucky River shortly after 9:15 p.m. Friday when a car driven by their father, Edward Paul, 42, plunged into the river at the Jackson Ferry landing 15 miles south-east of Winchester on the Muddy Creek Road. The victims: Donna Marie Paul, 7, and Helen Louise Paul, 5. A third child of the Paul's, three-months-old Carol Ann, was rescued by Sterling Townsend who was on a houseboat tied up a short distance from the site of the accident. Mr. and Mrs. Paul and two others in the car, Mrs. And Mrs. George Hisle of Lexington, escaped from the sinking car through the windows and swam to safety. Mr. Hisle, owner of the car is a former Clark Countian. Deputy Sheriffs O. P. Johnson and Ben Allen, who with State Trooper James McMullin directed the recovery of the bodies, quoted Paul as saying the group was in route to Dripping Rock on the Clark County side of the river for a weekend fishing trip. Officers said the approach to the river was a straight stretch of blacktopped roadway and they quoted Paul as saying he was driving about 40 miles per hour, unaware that he was nearing the river. The ferryboat was on the opposite side of the river, tied on the Madison County bank. Coroner James W. Bean said the car, plunged into 14 feet of water about 30 feet from the Clark bank at about 9:15 p.m. and was hauled out of the water at 11:50 p.m. Paul, diving from the ferryboat repeatedly, said that he was unable to reach the two children trapped in the rear section of the car. He said the doors were locked. Townsend, who heard the crash, jumped into the river to assist the Pauls and Hises. The baby, Carol Ann, was pulled through a window of the car by her mother. In trying to reach the shoreline, Carol Ann was swept from her mother's arms and rescued by Townsend. Townsend, giving the child artificial respiration, was credited with saving the baby's life. The child was taken to the Clark County Hospital where her condition was reported as satisfactory. Officers said the Townsend and Paul made repeated efforts to reach the car which held the two victims. The car was on the bottom the river in an estimated depth of 14 feet. Paul is a house painter and is employed in Lexington. THE WINCHESTER SUN. SAT. 8/6/1955

Paxton, Richard	At Harrodsburg Saturday the jury in the case of H. C. Passmore for the murder of Richard Paxton on October 3 1887, returned a verdict of acquittal, after being out less than half an hour. This is the fifteenth court that has passed on the case. At the first trial the jury stood seven for capital punishment, four for life and one for acquittal, and they have been growing more lenient every court since. The case has cost the State over $30,000, several jurymen being taken from adjoining counties as well as witnesses. The Winchester Democrat, Wednesday, October 11, 1893

Payne, Fate	AA	A DISPATCH from Gallatin, Tenn., says "There is much talk of an exciting nature over a well-founded rumor that last night a body of " Black Caps" a negro organization, notified Dr. W. W. Dixey, of Hendersonville, this county, that he must leave the county. Dr. Dixey is a reputable and well-liked man of undaunted courage. It will be remembered that Hendersonville was the scene of numerous incendiary fires last year which culminated in the lynching of Fate Payne, a negro. Since then there was an exciting rival at Gallatin of seven other negroes charged with barn burning, resulting in a hung jury, and Hendersonville has been the seat of much disorder and bad feeling ever since. Dr. Dixey is not the man to run, and will be backed by the best citizens of the community. The Democrat, Wednesday, August 26, 1891.

Payne, Henry		Vow Of Vengeance The Morganfield Sun prints the following account of a remarkable incident at the funeral of Henry Payne, who was shot by his cousin, Samuel Houston, in Union county, last week: " Mrs. Mollie Moses, the only surviving sister of the deceased, sat by and without any emotional demonstration, saw the grave filled. Just as Undertaker Walker finished placing the flowers on the grave, she raised her hand, and, pointing toward the mound, said: "My brother, your murder shall be avenged! If not by the courts, then by my own right hand, so help me God." There was not a quiver in her voice, and those who heard her utter the words were deeply impressed with the firm determination manifested." The Winchester Democrat, Fri., Sept. 12, 1902

Payne, M.O. Flem		Man's foot Incased in a shoe, dragged about by dog leads to discovery Glasgow, Ky., - The body of a man, identified as M.O. Flem Payne, 36, was found in the woods, three miles from Fountain Run. A dog was noticed dragging an object about the yard, which on investigation, was found to be a shoe containing a human foot. Later the skull bones and clothing together with a watch and pocketbook were found 50 yards from the road in the woods. Besides a considerable amount of money the pocketbook contained papers which established the identity. Near by was a tree which had been struck by lightening, and the supposition is that Payne had taken refuge under the tree during a rain. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, November 6, 1906

Pearce, Lockkeeper		Will be released Joel Noel, who is serving a ten years sentence in the United States prison at Atlanta, Ga., will be released on the 27 th of this month, having served seven years and gained the other three years as his good time, there never having been a mark against him. It will be remembered that Noel killed Lockkeeper Pearce at High Bridge. The trouble occurred on government ground, hence he was tried and sentenced in the Federal court at Covington. At the time of conviction he had a wife and nine children, but since his incarceration one of his daughters has died and several of his other children have married. He was a great fisherman and has written a friend here to have the fish ready for a big “fry” when he has arrived home. – Harrodsburg Herald The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, September 1, 1908

Peck, Mrs. W. H.	A remarkable suit for damages is pending in the United States Circuit Court at Chattanooga, Tenn. The plaintiff, W. H. Peck, was agent for the Knoxville Southern railroad at Grundy, Tenn., his wife assisting him. The receiver ordered the telegraph office at Grundy closed, and the operator took out the instrument, leaving the wires still attached to a table in a room in the depot building. On May 1, 1890, Mrs. Peck was sitting at the table in the depot to which the wires were attached, unaware of the danger. A thunder storm arose and the lightning striking the wire entered the room and killed Mrs. Peck. Mr. Peck charges that this was due to negligence and carelessness on the part of the railroad, and asks for damages to the amount of $25,000. The Winchester Democrat, Wednesday, September 13, 1893

Peck, Walter	A Kentuckian Assassinated While Returning From Church. Maysville, Ky., Nov. 13.—Tuesday night Walter Peck was shot and instantly killed between Elizaville and Crains, Fleming county. Peck had been to church and was on his way home. When on a lonesome stretch of the pike, about half way from the church and home and while passing a rock pile on the side of the pike, a man rose up with a shotgun and fired, the load striking Peck, killing him instantly. The authorities came to this city, procured the bloodhounds, and Wednesday morning early a man by the name of Burgess, of Tilton, Fleming county, was arrested. No one knows why he should shoot Peck, as there were no words or grudge between them. Peck was an excellent young man. The Winchester Sentinel, Wednesday, November 19, 1902 For Safe Keeping Alvin Burgess, Accused Of Killing Walter Peck, Taken To Maysville Flemingsburg, Ky., Nov. 15 Alvin Burgess, accused of killing Walter Peck, near Tilton, was taken to the Maysville jail for safekeeping. Great indignation prevails in the vicinity of the killing, and while no immediate danger was anticipated, it was thought best to take no chances of another assault on the jail, such as was experienced last winter. Peck's funeral was largely attended, and his death is the leading topic of conversation on the street. There has been no demonstration toward violence. There are three other prisoners in jail here charged with or convicted of murder. Burgess' examining trial was set for Tuesday. The Winchester Democrat, Fri., Nov. 21, 1902 Pursued By Mobs. Two Alleged Murderers Taken to Covington For Safe Keeping. Covington, Ky., Nov. 20.—After being pursued by mobs in two counties, two men, charged with murder, were locked up in the Covington jail Wednesday morning. They

		are Alvin Burgess, of near Flemingsburg, Fleming county, Ky., and George Bentz, of Mays Lick, Mason county, Ky. They were taken to Covington jail in the early morning. Bentz and Burgess were first placed in the jail at Brooksville, and it was there that the authorities first received word that the mobs had been formed and were approaching the place. Sheriff Robinson of Mason county, had just time to take them away when the company of those who were after the men arrived. The two prisoners were taken by a devious route toward Brooksville, where it was intended to keep them. But the mob arrived there first. While on the way the sheriff received a warning and he turned back with his prisoners to Wellsburg, much to the disappointment of the mob, which thought that it had the men surely in its hands. The mob had taken a cross country route and arrived in Brooksville in time to be lined up before the jail ready for the sheriff. The latter, however, put his prisoners onboard a freight train and soon had his men in Covington. They were locked in separate cells. Burgess was morose when locked up. He said that he had no statement to make. The crime with which he is charged is the killing of a 16-year-old boy named Walter Peck last Sunday. It appears that the boy was going to a church a little distance from where Burgess worked and that a fence was being built near there also. Peck offered to help build the fence and, in some way, became involved in an altercation with Burgess, who shot him. Bentz had a duel with a saloonkeeper, Robert Owsley, at Mays Lick. The latter fired at him twice, but missed, while Bentz's bullet went true. The Winchester Sentinel, Wednesday, November 26, 1902

Peddler		The grand jury unearthed an old case of murder at the recent session of the Circuit Court, which, if the indictment can be sustained will furnish another illustration of the old adage, that "the mills of the gods grind slow but they grind exceedingly fine." In the fall of 1878 a peddler disappeared from the Buck Horn neighborhood in this county, but what had become of him could never fully established. The entrails of a man were found in Buck Horn creek shortly afterward, and it was supposed they were formerly of this peddler, but this could not be proved. One man was indicted and tried for killing him, but he proved an alibi and escaped. Subsequent troubles in the community have brought out witnesses who testify that Stephen Campbell has confessed that he murdered the peddler. On this statement and corroborating testimony the grand jury indicted Campbell. As to whether or not proof sufficient can be procured to convict, remains to be seen. The grand jury was satisfied to make the indictment--Jackson Hustler. The Democrat, Wednesday, January 20, 1892.

Pendleton, David J.	Death Of Capt. D. J. Pendleton Capt. David J. Pendleton died at the Court View Hotel yesterday afternoon of a complication of diseases, aged 76 years. He had long been one of the most prominent

		citizens of the county. For many years he has been county surveyor, a place he held at the time of his death. He was also city engineer at the time of his death. He was also school commissioner for many years. During the civil war he fought gallantly in the confederate army, being a non-commissioned officer in Col. Cluke's regiment the 8th Kentucky Cavalry. His wife, formerly Miss Lindsay, survives him, as do two sons, Judge F. P. Pendleton, of this city, and Charlie Pendleton, of Missouri. The Winchester Democrat, Tue., Oct. 2, 1900 Capt. Pendleton's Funeral The esteem in which the late Capt. D. J. Pendleton was held was attested by the large crowd that attended the funeral at Court View Hotel Wednesday. Elds. J. W. Harding and F. B. Walker conducted it and the remains were buried in the Winchester Cemetery. His old comrades, the ex-Confederates, attended his funeral in a body. The Winchester Democrat, Fri., Oct. 5, 1900

Pendleton, F. P.		The Courier-Journal of Saturday contained a portrait of Mayor F. P. Pendleton and the following sketch of him and our city: "F. P. Pendleton, Mayor of Winchester, is a native of Clark county and a son of Capt. D. J. Pendleton, who was an officer in Gen. Morgan's command, and who since the war has been School Commissioner, and is now County Surveyor of Clark County. Mayor Pendleton is actively engaged in business at Winchester. He is happily married, and has a family of four children. He is a man of earnest conviction and of courage, a Democrat of the strictest ort, and has always been an active worker for the success of the party. He was elected Mayor in February 1800, succeeding Mayor John E. Garner. During his administration the city has been prosperous in a marked degree. In that time a splendid system of water work has been built, street car lines established, the city limits extended and several miles of Macadamized streets and brick pavements built. All these and other improvements have been made without increasing the rate of taxation, which is only fifty cents on the hundred dollars on a low assessed valuation. The city is out of debt, always has money in the treasury, and all its financial operations are conducted on a cash basis. Surveys have been made for a new system of sewerage, and this and other improvements re-contemplated for the present year. Winchester's school system is one of the prides of its people. It has three academies besides its graded schools and well equipped and in handsome buildings". The Democrat, Wednesday, March 1, 1893.

Pendleton, Mrs. Clara	In memorium Mrs. Clara Pendleton, wife of Roy Pendleton, died at the home of her father, B.T. Carls, November 19, 1909, after a sickness of two weeks. She leaves a young husband, one infant, two weeks old, father and mother, two sisters, three brothers, and all who know her to mourn her loss. She was a devoted Christian and a member of the Grassy Lick Methodist church. It seems so strange that one so young, only twenty-two years old, good and useful, should be snatched away so unexpectedly, yet we realize our loss is God's gain, and that she is far beyond the land of sickness and pain, to meet her Savior face to face and live in glory forever. We know not how soon we may be called to meet her. The funeral was preached at home by Bro. Wright. The remains were laid to rest in the Mt. Sterling cemetery. -Dearest Clara, thou hast left us, And thy missing we greatly feel. Yet it is God who has bereft us, And all our sorrows He can heel. Yet again we hope to meet thee, When the days of life have fled, And in heaven with joy greet thee, Where no farewell tears are shed. The Winchester Democrat, Friday, November 26, 1909

Pendleton, Mrs. Mary	Died, December 3 rd , after a lingering and painful illness, Mary, wife of Thomas J. Pendleton. She leaves a husband and six little children to sustain this irreparable loss. And again the dark angel of death enters the home of our neighbor and takes its most precious and cherished inmate. It seems to us the greatest and saddest misfortune that can befall us in this life is to lose mother while we are yet in our infancy and childhood when we so much need her helpful advice and loving care. We say to our dear little schoolmates who are by this sad dispensation of Providence made orphans, you have our deepest sympathy in this dark hour of your earthly affliction. Perkins, Ike	Killed the wrong man Ike Perkins, of Magoffin county, and well known throughout this section, by being mistaken for another man, lost his life in Magoffin county last week. Bushwhackers were lying in wait in the woodland near the road momentarily expecting one of their enemies to pass that way. Unfortunately for Ike, he passed at the wrong time and the crack of a faithful old Winchester deprived him of his life. The intended victim came upon Ike's dead body a short time after the fatal shot had been fired, but the assassins had fled. – Paintsville Herald The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, October 4, 1910

Perkins, Mrs. Julia	A Mystery Solved The name of the mysterious woman who formerly resided at Ashland, and who committed suicide at a hotel in Wheeling last week, has been identified as Mrs. Julia

	Perkins. The Ashland Independent in speaking of her says: "She was a woman of extraordinary culture, and had traveled extensively in Europe. Before committing the awful act she wrote a letter to her sister at Akron, Ohio, saying she could not bear the prospect of living in poverty. She was a woman accustomed to affluence. She always refused to disclose her name, but would say, "I am now living on huske, and I am too proud to let my friends know it." However, she was well dressed and looked like a woman who at least had the comforts of life. She left a remarkable impression on persons who conversed with her; she was so interesting, entertaining, and so broadly informed." The Winchester, Democrat Fri., Feb. 14, 1902

Perkins, Peter	Through The Heart A Constable Shot Peter Perkins, A Young Soldier, Who Resisted Arrest At Jellico Williamsburg, Ky., Aug. 3 Peter Perkins, a young soldier, who served through the Spanish war, was shot through the heart at Jellico by Constable Bryant while resisting arrest. Perkins was drinking heavily for some days past, and while on the Kentucky side became boisterous. Bryant attempted to arrest him, but met with stubborn resistance, and fired, killing him instantly. Bryan was arrested and brought here to jail. Perkins was one of the Taylor guards at Frankfort, and while in the executive building secured a pair of Bradley's slippers, which he subsequently wore, saying he wanted to stand in the governor's shoes for once. Peters, Walker J.	There are two classes of people in Mexico—the rich and the poor, (God help the poor; the rich can take care of themselves) and despotism was never worse in Russia. The poor often suffer for the necessities of life, while the rich grow fat in cattle and lands. Most of the land in and around Chihuahua is owned either by Senor Terrojas or Senor Enrique Creel. Both are bankers and large dealers in cattle. Senor Creel is the father-in-law of Mr. Walker J. Peters, deceased, formerly one of Mt. Phillips, Grant	OUR West Bend correspondent give the following account of a killing Saturday night on Hardwick's Creek, near Clay City. Will Hockenhimer and Grant Phillips had some time ago been engaged in a difficulty but it was settled at the time and no further trouble was apprehended. They were returning from a party together and Hockenhimer fired his pistol in the air and in a moment without further warning, placed the weapon at

	Phillips' back and fired, the ball passing out through the abdomen inflicting a wound from which he died in a few minutes. Hockenhimer was arrested and placed in jail at Stanton. The victim was a son of Dock Phillips, of Clay City, and was highly respected. Our correspondent says public feeling is wrought up to a very high pitch over the murder which was entirely unprovoked. The Democrat, Wednesday, December 16, 1891. Wm. Hockenhimer, who killed Grant Phillips, of Clay City last week, was held over in $5,00 bail to await the action of the Circuit Court. The Democrat, Wednesday, Friday, December 18, 1891. WILLIAM HOCKENHIMER, who for some time has been confined in the Stanton jail for the murder of Grant Phillips, has given bond. While in jail he had a desperate fight with Simpson Bush, who will be hung Friday for the murder of his wife. The Democrat, Wednesday, February 3, 1892

Phillips, Traci	Traci Phillips, age 54, of Winchester, Kentucky, passed away unexpectedly at her home on February 10, 2021. Traci was born in Pikeville, Kentucky, on September 17, 1965, to Donald A. and Sydney S. Phillips. She spent her childhood growing up in Coal Run Village and along with her siblings, garnered many lifelong friendships in the close knit neighborhood. She attended Mullins School and moved to Pikeville High School until the family relocated to Winchester. She graduated from George Rogers Clark High School early and at age 17 moved to Florida. After settling there she soon started her own housekeeping business. She spent many happy years in Florida. She eventually returned to Kentucky and worked as an accounting assistant for Valvoline Headquarters in Lexington, amongst several other companies in the area. In 2008, her entrepreneurial spirit led her to form another successful business which has continually grown since it's inception. Traci was an avid Grateful Dead fan and she began selling merchandise relevant to their music and culture. She traveled far and wide across the country as a vendor at music festivals and related events. She made numerous friends and acquaintances over the years. Traci was a fearless, kind, generous, and loving person. She was a devoted mother and animal lover. There was no longer a stray animal if one found it's way to her doorstep, as did a little puppy just this past Thanksgiving day. So many lucky creatures were cared for by her since she was a child. She had a quiet strength. She lived big. She lived happy. One thing she always said was, "no worries!". She was an inspiration to so many who crossed paths with her. She will be missed dearly. She is survived by her children Megan Jo Schommer of Winchester, Ky, Dylan Thomas Schommer (Olivia), of Washington, DC and Patrick McMahan,(Leah, Walt, Juliana) of Louisville, Ky. Her beloved dogs, Bunny, Blue and Red and cats Sonny, Gypsy and Kiki.Sisters, Melanie Phillips Hubbard (brother-in-law Toulmin) and Donna Phillips, all of Winchester. Brother Scott Phillips (sister-in-law Suzanne) of Edgewater Fl, and her nieces and nephews, Josh Barnard (Laura), Christy Barnard (Dylan Kleinhans), Stephen Harris, Paige Hubbard, Samantha and Rachael Phillips. And great nieces, Ashley, Isabella and Addilynn and great nephews Jacob, Walker, Jesse, Cody and Maximus. She was preceded in death by her parents, Donald and Sydney Phillips, and former husband Jesse Harrison, all of Winchester, Kentucky. A celebration of life will take place at a later date and will be posted as an event on social media for family and friends. The Winchester Sun February 19-21, 2021 + Scobee Funeral Home

Philpot, Bob	Bloody Tragedy In Manchester, Clay County, Ky.—Two Men Killed in a Fight Barbourville, Ky., Jan. 13.—Reliable news reaches here of another bloody tragedy in Manchester, Clay county, on last Monday, in which Bob Philpot and James Bundy were killed. The fight was the result of the killing which occurred there on Christmas day when Philpot's brother and Bundy's brother were killed. A great deal of feeling exists between the Bundy's and Philpot's over the last election, which is ripening into another mountain feud and more trouble is looked for as the Philpot and the Bundy families are the largest in Clay county. Philpot, Robert	Terrible Feud Outbreak. Five Men Reported Killed in Clay county Ky.—War Between the Philpot and Morris Factions. Louisville, Ky., July 18.—A special from London, Ky., tells of a report reaching here of the outbreak of another feud in Clay county by which five men lost their lives Monday. The dead are said to be: Robert Philpot, Ed Fisher, Aaron Morris, Jim Griffin and Hugh Griffin. These fatalities resulted from a pitched battle fought near Little Goose creek, three miles of Manchester. The feud dates back nearly two years. On Christmas, 1897, James Philpot was killed by Aaron Morris, but before he died he shot and killed Wm. Bundy, a friend of Morris. The Morris and Griffins were closely affiliated. Since then the feuding between the two factions has been very bitter, and it has been aroused recently by the White-Baker hostilities. The Philpots, who are the strongest faction in the mountain numbering about 750 voters, openly espoused the cause of the Bakers, White, the Griffins took sides with the Whites. The story that reaches here from Manchester is to the effect that Bob Philpot was arrested Monday morning by Deputy Sheriff Wash Thacker. While very circumstantial, in other respects the report does not show clearly the origin of the trouble nor give the reason for Philpot's arrest. It is said that while Thacker was taking Philpot's bond, the latter was shot from behind by a member of a crowd that had gathered. This precipitated a general fight with Winchester and revolvers, which was participated in by George, Granville, Robert and Peter Philpot and Ed Fisher on one side and Aaron Morris, Hugh, Jim and Green Griffin on the other. The battle began about 9 o'clock and raged fiercely for ten or fifteen minutes. When it was over it was found that the five men mentioned above had been killed outright, three of the belligerents were seriously wounded, while Pete Philpot was the only one on either side to escape injury. Granville Philpot is said to be one of the most seriously wounded. He is a union veteran having lost a leg at Stone river. He is an ex-member of the Kentucky legislature and is said to have killed three or four men. Ed Fisher, who is reported dead, was another man with several nicks in his cane. He was but 23 years old but was said to have killed three men. The story of this battle caused consternation here notwithstanding the fact that serious trouble has been expected to break out among the mountaineers of Clay county ever since the assassination of Tom Baker several weeks ago. An effort was at once begun to secure

	deputies to go to the seat of the trouble and attempt to restore quiet, but up to a late hour in the afternoon there had not been enough responses to make up a force that would command respect. The situation at Manchester is deplorable. Since morning the place has been in a state of terror, scarcely anyone daring to venture out of doors. Business is suspended and the residents are momentarily expecting a renewal of hostilities. The entire county of Clay is filled with men mounted and armed. Other battles may occur at any moment. A relative of the Philpots has just left here to join his family and swears vengeance. London Depot, Ky., July 18.—Clay county has another killing for its annals. Dick Lovens' body has been found three miles from Manchester. He was beaten to death in the night. When found his head was severed from his body and had been beaten to a pulp. A 45-calibre revolver was found on the body. Having killed three men and injured several, he was probably killed by the friends on one of his victims. He leaves a widow and eight children. An attempt has been made to kill Will Gray, near Manchester, Clay county. After three shots had passed through his clothes, one of them scraping his body, he escaped by running through a forest. Gray is one of the Baker's friends. The Winchester Democrat, Friday, July 21, 1899

Phipps, Mrs. Hannah	Died Mrs. Hannah Phipps, was stricken with paralysis last Saturday at her home in Dover and never regained consciousness. She was ninety years old and was our oldest resident. There seems to be a strange fatality and coincidence of the figure 9 in her life. She was born on the 9th day of the 9th month of the year 1809, and was 90 years old September 9th, 1899, and passed away March 9, 1900. Phipps, W. R.	A deserved tribute At a meeting of the session of the First Presbyterian church held a few days since the following tribute to the life and character of a most noble Christian man was adopted. The Sun-Sentinel commends the tribute for two fundamental reasons. The first, that every word is absolutely true of the man and the second is that the kind words are said of him while he lives and his ears can hear and his heart appreciate kindness and love. With sincerest regret we are called upon to note the departure from our midst of our beloved father, and fellow laborer W. R. Phipps. As a session, we wish to bear record to our distinct loss of one of our number who has been a living example to us, in holding first in importance the interests of the cause of Christ, as represented by his and our church. As a Brotherhood man, he has been the most earnest and active working member of us all. His consecrated life, his sincere devotion, and his active service have made him distinctly a marked man in the community. We believe the united sentiment of the congregations will be that we are losing from among us, the one who lived nearest and walks most with God. We shall very greatly miss his prayers, his words and his work. We wish him God's richest blessings during the remaining years of his life. For the sake of the church militant we would desire that he might yet be spared a score of years for service, but for his own sake we pray that God may continue him with his people on earth yet a little while and that, in his blessed time, he may gather him. An exceptionally ripened and faithful sheaf, into his garden, the home land where we trust we may all meet him in the not very distant future. The Winchester Sun-Sentinel, Thursday, September, 12, 1907

Pickrell, James M.	Sudden death Mr. James M. Pickrell dies suddenly yesterday afternoon of acute indigestion Mr. Jas. M. Pickrell, one of our most prominent citizens, died suddenly yesterday of acute indigestion. He leaves a wife and one daughter, Mrs. William P. French. No arrangements had been made when we went to press. The Winchester Democrat, Friday, March 4, 1910 Funeral of J.M. Pickrell Nothing of recent occurrence has given a greater shock to our people than the announcement Thursday afternoon of the sudden death of James M. Pickrell. He had been in the city a few hours before, but a sudden attack of acute indigestion caused his death in a few minutes. He was forty-one years of age and was one of our most influential business men. He came here from Mt. Sterling about eight years ago and at first was interested in what is now the electric light and ice plant and also in the street railway. He afterward bought the Dudley place on the Lexington pike where he resided at the time of his death. He leaves a wife, who was formerly Miss Richards of Sharpsburg and one daughter, Mrs. William P. French. Funeral services were held at the residence Saturday morning at ten o'clock, by Rev. T.J. Porter, and the burial was in Macpelah cemetery at Mt. Sterling, with services at the grave by Dr. Clark. The pall bearers were: D.S. Gay, T.W.L. Vanmeter, C.G. Thomson, J.H. Wood, Ray Patterson, A.R. Sharp, H.H. Phillips, and Rufus Lisle. The honorary pall bearers were: M.T. McEldowney, N.H. Witherspoon, T.C. Robinson, W.R. Thompson, W.S. Lloyd, I.F. Tabb, Dwight Bowden, and M.C. Cockrill. Pieratt, George	A Horrible Death-The Owingsville Outlook says: Below is appended the sickening details of the death of old man, George Pieratt which occurred on Friday morning of last week, of which his neighbors were ignorant until late the next morning. George Pieratt and his sister, both quite old and the latter a helpless invalid, lived all alone in their little cabin in the western portion of this county and about four miles from town. Early Friday morning George Pieratt was seen to pitch forward into the fire. With a superhuman effort the poor old bed-ridden woman dragged her palsied body out of bed and toward her brother, whose charred and disfigured body she at last succeeded in dragging from the fire. She then extinguished his burning clothing and being unable to regain her bed she got upon a lounge nearby on which there was but one thin covering. Here she lay throughout that long dreary day and the still longer night, her only company being the dead and horribly disfigured body of her brother. The fire burned lower and lower and finally went out leaving the poor woman a prey to hunger, thirst, and cold. What her suffering must have been, no one can imagine, but unconsciousness finally came to her relief in which condition she was found by one of the neighbors on Saturday morning. The vigorous application of restoratives soon brought her around all right. During the night the cats had eaten the flesh from the face of the corpse which presented a sight as ghastly as the eye ever looked upon. The old woman thinks her brother died with heart disease, as he did not move after he fell. The deceased belonged to one of the oldest families in this county, his father having come over with Lafayette. Clark County Democrat, Wed., 2-16-1881

Pieratt, R. M.	No section of the State can show a sadder official record than death has made in Eastern Kentucky within less than twenty years. First, Judge John M. Elliott, of the Court of Appeals, fell dead on our streets at the hands of an assassin, afterwards sentenced to death and later declared insane. Judge Richard Reid, of Mt. Sterling, of the Superior Court, died by his own hand. Senators Joseph Garder, R. M. Pieratt and James S. Hargis died while in the performance of their official duties. Congressman W. P. Taulbee was killed in Washington; Judge Van B. Young, of the Superior Court, was scarcely at rest in the grave before Congressman J. W. Kendall followed him. It is a mournful record, which all will hope may never be repeated elsewhere.----Frankfort Capital. The Winchester Democrat, Wednesday March 16, 1892
Pierce, Annette	Annette "Ann" Pierce, 81, of Winchester, Kentucky, died October 15 at home surrounded by her beloved family. She was born on September 15, 1942 to W L Lucas and Zora Mae Heath in Monroe, Louisiana. Ann graduated San Jacinto High School, Houston, Texas in 1960 and received her license in cosmetology shortly after. She married John Williamson Pierce, Jr. on November 4, 1961 and they adopted two children, Lark Ellen and John Williamson, III. She worked as a bookkeeper at Virginia Beach Country Day School, an administrative assistant at the Navy Exchange, Oceana, and the administrative assistant to the district manager of Target, Virginia Beach. She loved to play card and board games, garden, sew and crochet, and she enjoyed a host of other arts and crafts. Ann is survived by daughter Lark Ellen, son John Williamson, III, grandson Hunter Mark, granddaughter-in-law Megan Elizabeth, grandson Forrest Blake, great-grandchildren Emily Nicole, Riley Hayden, Charlie Ann, and Aubrey Isabella, and brother Ronald Lucas, sister Mona Anders, brother-in-law Daniel Anders, brother Gregg Lucas, and sister-in-law Michelle Lucas. She was preceded in death by her father W L Lucas and her mother Mary Lucas. In lieu of funeral services, Ann simply wished that family and friends would gather to have a meal and reminisce together with stories about memorable times she had enjoyed with them. The Winchester Sun October 22-22 & 24, 2023 + Scobee Funeral Home

Piersall, William S.	Memorial PIERSALL-Died at his residence near Pilot View. WILLIAM S. PIERSALL aged 30 years 1 month and 12 days. "Death come equally to us all and makes us all equal when it comes it is no respecter of rank and station but brings alike the aristocracy and plebeian to one final resting place-the grave. It has made desolate the home of our beloved friend and brother, Willie Piersall, who fell a victim to the dread disease, typhoid fever. Scarcely two weeks had passed from the beginning of his illness when the "Messenger" came, and one more young heart was stilled forever, one more spirit had passed beyond earth's toils and cares to heaven's rest and perfect bliss. As a comfort to sorrowing loved ones he leaves them the "blessed assurance that he was a Christian the Jesus was his, and during the few clear moments preceding death, he expressed a willingness to go and be with Him. At the age of twelve years he professed faith in Christ and since that time has lived a consistent member of Ephesus congregation, leading a pure and assuming Christian life. His disposition was so modest and retiring that only close friends understood the beauties of his quiet life. As a neighbor he was kind, courteous and obliging as a citizen, industrious and loyal was twice married, his wives being sisters, formerly Misses Black. We deeply sympathize with his bereaved family, especially the little orphaned daughter left alone to brave the storms of life with "Mamma" "Papa" and little brother, all safe at home with Jesus. We fain would throw a protecting arm around the tiny form, and commit her to the care of Him who has promised to be a "Father to the fatherless". He will be a husband a comforter. A Christian writer says "There is no darkness that gathers about any of God's children into which he does not send some beams of brightness: no life so dark and full of grief into which he does not pour some of the splendor of Heaven." "This heavy cross does not signify anger, dear wife; it may be but a trial of your faith, a test of your love. Two loving sisters mourn the loss of an only brother, but may this sad affliction enable them to sing more earnestly." "Closer to Thee, my Savior, draw me". To the dear "old folks" father and mother, this sorrow must have fallen heaviest. So many loved ones in glory, but his, the strongest tie that binds them nearer Heaven. Perchance the unfinished conversation between father and son will be resumed in eternity or better still, he may be speaking to you yet from the grave, or through song. Methinks I hear sweet music from the "Heavenly Choir." They are singing from "Hymns New and Old." No, He and I recognize a familiar voice on the last stand, wafting back to the erring of earth glad tidings of comfort and joy. We eagerly accept the good news and catching up the sweet refrain, respond. "Yet, again we hope to meet thee." "When the day of life is fled. And in Heaven, with joy to guide thee. Where no farewell tear is shed." The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, April 17, 1894.

	town and got out a warrant for the arrest of Dan McQuinn, who lived on T.G. Beall's place. Pigg says he was returning home from work after dark when he was met by McQuinn. They walked along together for some time when without warning, McQuinn struck him a terrific blow with a big stick, cutting his head badly. The stick was broken by the blow and McQuinn then drew a pistol and fired at Pigg, the ball cutting his clothes. Pigg ran into his house and McQuinn left. The officers went to arrest the latter but he had gone to Texas. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, February 11, 1896

Pigg, Leslie	Tragic death Leslie Pigg dies of poison administered by his own hand Saturday evening about seven o'clock Leslie Pigg went into the Rees House saloon and asked barkeeper Bradley for a drink of water. He had evidently been drinking but was not drunk. The water was given to him and he dropped into it a tablet from a box in his hand and swallowed it. There was nothing to indicate that any desperate purpose lurked in his brain and he seemed quiet and composed. After the lapse of a few minutes he called for whiskey and asked those present to drink with him at the same time remarking that it would be the last drink he would ever take. About this time the barkeeper noticed that the box from which the tablets were taken was labeled "Morphine" and he at once divined that the drug was taken with suicidal intent. In a few moments it began to act and he was taken to his room, corner of Maple and Washington streets, and a physician, Dr. Browne was summoned. All that could be done for the unfortunate man was done but without avail. He died about ten o'clock. In the absence

	of Coroner Crim, Squire Wills held an inquest. A jury was impaneled, which after viewing the body and hearing the evidence brought in a verdict in accordance with the facts given about. The jury was composed of the following: M.T. McDonald, E.S. Bean, John McCoy, Tom Baskett, Henry Boone and W.P. Hackett. His relatives at Richmond were notified and the remains taken there on the noon train Sunday. Mr. Pigg was twenty-four years old and was a handsome and intelligent young man. He came here last summer and opened a saloon at the corner of Maple and Washington streets. He developed a fondness for whiskey and lewd women, a combination which has wrecked so many promising young men. He spent his substance in riotous living, and since Christmas reached the end of his financial career. He was indicted by the recent grand jury for several minor offenses, and a damage suit against Chief of Police Donahoe for alleged illegal imprisonment is now pending. Notwithstanding his many faults, those who knew him best, say he was a big hearted, generous man. He was a son of W.W. Pigg, a wealthy citizen of Madison county, and a brother-in-law of Jailer Wilkerson, of Fayette county. No motive is known for his suicide as he could have obtained any reasonable amount of money from his father. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, March 10, 1896 An unsolvable mystery Col. B.J. Newlon, of the Owenton Herald, in commenting on the sad suicide of Leslie Pigg, says: "A sad taking off was that of Leslie Pigg at Winchester last Saturday evening, an account of which is given in another part of this paper. The youngest child of a wealthy father and mother whose devotion we have never seen surpassed, with everything that his world can bestow apparently to make life a splendid success, he ruthlessly throws that life away when just upon its threshold. Such things are among the mysteries that can never be solved this side of that great day when everything will be made plain. May the good Lord, in his infinite wisdom, bind up the broken hearts of this mother and father, and teach them that these light afflictions which endure but for a moment shall work out for them a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory." Pigg, William	Indian Fields Died, on the 21 st ., of pneumonia, Mr. Wm. Pigg, aged 76 years, funeral on the following day by Rev. Caudell. Interment in the family grave yard near by. He leaves a wife and one daughter and son-in-law to mourn his loss. We extend our sympathy to the bereaved family in this their sore trial. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, December 24, 1895 Obituary At his residence, near Indian Fields, Ky., after a long and painful illness. William Pigg departed this life on the 21 st inst., in the 67 th year of his age. His funeral was preached by the Rev. W. W. Caudell to a large crowd of sympathizing friends and he was laid to rest in the family burying ground. The subject of this sketch was born in Clark County, Ky., on the 23 rd day of February, 1829, and lived all his life within two and a half miles of his birthplace. On the 6 th day of November, 1851 he was married to Miss Eliza A. Barrow, daughter of Augustin Barrow, of Montgomery County, Ky. Their union was blessed with three children, two of which died in their infancy. His widow, one daughter, Mrs. E. L. Butler, and a grandson, W. C. Butler, whom he raised, survive him and mourn his loss. In his death the wife loses a devoted husband and the daughter an affectionate and indulgent father and the community an honest, upright, gentleman, being converted at the early age of 17 and afterwards uniting with the Old Baptist. His life has been even as an open book to be read and learned of all men, and he took over ready to give a reason for the hope within him, and when the final summons came it found him ready and awaiting to be absent from the flesh and present with the Lord. Surely man's faith was never stronger. And to the grief stricken family we would say, "Mourn not as those that have no hope." As it has pleased an All-wise Heavenly Father to take him from us, let us bow in

	humble submission to His holy will, having for our consolation the precious promise found in Revelations, 14th Chapter and 13th Verse, which reads, "Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord, from henceforth yea saith the Spirit, for they rest from their labors and their works do follow them." And although he will walk no more among us we will ever cherish his memory and ever pray that our faith may be as strong as his. Peace be to his ashes. A Friend The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, December 31, 1895

Pinks, Jack	Report of pistol was heard And the battle between Kentucky factions was on Lexington, Ky., - A desperate battle is reported to have occurred in the mountains of Magoffin county, in which one man was killed and several others severely wounded. The dead man is Jack Pinks, who was shot through the heart by Nero Howard. One of the wounded men is Charles Howard, shot by George Wirman. Howard is a brother of Nero Howard and Wirman is Jack Pink's father-in-law. Howard badly wounded in the hip. Nero Howard was shot and badly wounded by an unknown man. The fight occurred at a voting place on the Upper licking river in Magoffin county and several fist fights occurred. Finally some one drew and fired a pistol and the battle was on. Jack Pink's was killed early in the action. A minute later Charles Howard fell wounded in the hip by George Wirman. Then Nero Howard, who had killed Pinks, was shot by a man who escaped under cover of the darkness before being reorganized. All the parties escaped into the mountains. No arrest have been made. Plantation Hands	AA	A BATTLE Between a Sheriff's Posse and Colored Plantation Hands. Two Colored Men Killed and Several Mortally Wounded. Nine Captured, While Others make their Escape to the Brush-None of the Whites Hurt-Great Excitement Near Clarksdale, Miss. CLARKSDALE, Miss., Oct. 3.-Sheriff Harris, of this place, was notified early Sunday morning by Deputy Fitzgerald, of Friar's Point, to at once organize an armed posse and proceed to the plantation of Mr. J. K. Wilkinson, a large planter, west of Bobs, a small station eight miles south of this place, to put down an insurrection among the colored people in that locality against the whites. Sheriff Harris promptly complied, and in a short time had an armed posse, consisting of twenty-seven men from this place and Friar's Point, moving to the scene. Authentic information has just been received that two colored men were killed outright and nine captured, and are now on the way to Friar's Point heavily guarded. In addition to the two men killed, several are said to be mortally wounded. The blacks took to the brush and are still out all armed. None of the whites are reported hurt. From confessions made by some of the prisoners, it is learned that they have organized an order among themselves, comprising the whole neighborhood, with passwords and grips, with the avowed for the purpose of killing the whites. The greatest excitement prevails. The colored men are thoroughly organized, and fears are entertained that the end has not been reached. Mr. Sessions, manager of the plantation, was fired upon three times Saturday but was not hurt. The town is without telegraphic facilities and the Wilkinson place somewhat in the interior, therefore news is somewhat scarce. The Democrat, Wednesday, October 5, 1892.

Plunket, James	A Louisville Post special Saturday says a sad story is that of James Plunket, a Pendleton county prisoner who was sent to the Frankfort pen for stealing cattle. Plunket had been there but a short time and was taken violently ill. He lay hopelessly sick in the prison hospital, and as the days passed grew worse. Chaplain Shepherd called to see him each day and noticed him sinking, and when satisfied he would not recover went to the prison physician, Dr. Stewart, and asked how long Plunket was for this world. He found that he would not last through the night. The Chaplain went at once to the bedside of Plunket and told him he was going to die, and asked if there was any message he would like to leave. The prisoner looked up, and with his last breath, told the good prison official that he was innocent of the charge for which he was sent there and to say so to his friends. Within two minutes he was dead. The Winchester Democrat, Friday, February 19, 1897
Plunkett, Ben	TO HANG The Death Penalty Given to Dillard Rainey. The Murder of Aaron Adams to Be Avenged. The Majesty of the Law Vindicated. Not in a spirit of vengeance; not with an outburst of wrath nor with the savage senselessness of mob violence; but with the calm, dignified majesty of the law has the blood of Aaron Adams, which cries from the ground, been avenged, or will be when the sentence of the law is executed. A thrill of horror went through our people when the causeless, cruel murder was committed, and when the news spread Saturday that the death penalty had been awarded the murderer, there was a verdict of assent almost universal, and the only regret was that Matt Rainey, the prisoner's father, did not receive the same sentence. The crime was a most atrocious one, and with no mitigating circumstances. Matt Rainey and James Henry had differences concerning a piece of land near the mouth of Upper Howard's Creek, and Henry had placed Frank Haggard in possession as a tenant. Rainey hauled the fence from around Haggard's garden leaving it open to the stock. Haggard hauled the rails back again and a quarrel on the 13th of last May in which Rainey shot Haggard inflicting a wound that it was thought would prove fatal. Mrs. Haggard saw Aaron Adams passing along the road and asked him to go for a doctor. Adams went after Dr. T. S. Allen, who lived near, and returning with the physician half an hour later, he was met by Matt Rainey and Dillard Rainey, father and son. Matt was armed with a gun and Dillard with a pistol. The former raised his gun to shoot Adams, but was prevented by Dr. Allan. With an oath he told his son to shoot and the latter did so. As Adams sank down pierced with a number of balls, Matt Rainey savagely tried again to shoot him. Deputy Sheriff Eperson was in the neighborhood and arrested Matt Rainey at once. Dillard escaped, although the officers once got close enough to shoot at him. He went

	through the mountains and was finally arrested at Roanoke, Va., under an assumed name. Matt Rainey was tried last fall and got a life sentence. He took an appeal and since has been in jail here. Two or three feeble attempts were made to mob him here last Spring but they lacked leadership. Since he has been in jail he has incurred the ill-will of the officers and fellow prisoners all whom concur in saying he is the meanest man with whom they have ever had dealings. The trial of Dillard Rainey began last Tuesday. The evidence closed Thursday at noon and was argued until the next morning when it was given to the jury, which brought in a verdict of guilty and fixing the death penalty the next day. When the prisoner heard it he turned deathly pale and seemed almost overcome. He soon recovered and was taken back to jail cursing the jury and vowing that he would never be hung. Neither of the prisoners have ever shown any remorse for the poor widow and the six helpless children. This will make the second sentence pronounced by Judge Scott, the other being the negro Will Taylor, who was hung for the murder of Squire Doty, in Madison county a year or two ago. If Rainey is hung it will make the fourth legal hanging in the county, and the first white man to be hung. Many years ago Jesse Winn, a negro, was hung near where Col. R. N. Winn's residence now stands, for the murder of Wm. Emerson, a white man, who owned him or had him hired. In August, 1839, a young negro named Knight was hung on the Lexington pike near F. H. Dudley's. He belonged to Mr. Morris who lived on Stoner and had committed a rape on a little white girl. In April, 1841, a negro man, belonging to Daniel Spar, broke into a house and disemboweled his wife. The latter got well, but the negro was hung for housebreaking. The negro woman belonged to Geo. Anderson and her assailant was hung near the far end of the C. and O. trestle on the side of Poynterville. In November, 1850, Thomas Nichols killed his master, Fred B. Nichols, at a rock quarry on the Lexington pike. He was hung about Christmas of the same year. The late Wm. Simpson was Sheriff at the time, and not liking the job of hanging the negro, he employed Marsh Lawrence to tie the rope. A year or two later Marsh Lawrence was killed by his brother, Jack Lawrence. The latter fled to Missouri, but was caught, brought back and sentenced to be hung. He was the first white man in the county to receive the death sentence, but was finally pardoned by Gov. Powell. About seventeen years ago, Ben. Plunkett was lynched, being hung to a tree in the Courthouse yard, the charge being an attempt assault on Miss Annie Ball, now Mrs. Bradford. In the fall of 1895 Bob Haggard was hung from the bridge on the Muddy Creek pike for a similar assault on Miss Elkin of near Ford. No motion has yet been made for a new trial, but this will be done. Since the death penalty has been given to Dillard, his father says he does not wish a new trial, but is inclined to accept the life sentence given him last fall. The general opinion is that if he should secure a new trial he would also be hung. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, February 16, 1897.

Pogue, Mrs. James	Fatal Accident. Friday evening Mrs. James Pogue, of Mason county, and her sister, Miss Lottie Culver Jones, of New York City, were making a social call; the horse attached to the buggy became frightened at a hog and ran off, overturning the vehicle and kicking it to pieces. Mrs. Pogue was killed almost instantly, her skull being fractured. Miss Jones was very badly hurt, her leg being fractured near the knee and amputation being probably necessary. These ladies were sisters of Mrs. John G. Johns, of this city, whom they have visited, and for whom much sympathy is felt. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, September 6, 1901. Condition Still Serious The condition of Miss Lottie Culver Jones, who was so seriously injured at the time her sister, Mrs. James Pogue, was killed by the runaway in Mason county on the 6 th of September, continues quite serious at the Good Samaritan Hospital at Cincinnati. On Tuesday an operation was performed, the shin bone being wired in place. Everything possible is being done for her, but she is not yet out of danger. Miss Jones is the sister of Mrs. John G. Johns, of this city. The Winchester Democrat, Tue., Oct. 8, 1901

Polly, Frank	Frank Polly Killed A few years ago when the scene of the famous French-Eversole war was transferred from Perry county here, among the men who were under arrest charged with participation in the Eversole side, was a boy seventeen or eighteen years of age, with the face of an angel and the heart of a tiger. It was Frank Polly, probably the most desperate fighter on the Eversole side. When all the prosecutions were finally dismissed Polly went back to the mountains. It was rumored here that he killed his uncle with a maul shortly after being in Winchester, but this was afterward denied. He finally drifted over into Virginia where last week he fell out with one Frank Riggs and proceeded to kill him in the old Perry county fashion. Riggs was wounded but got away. Constable Blondell and Ed. Clark went to arrest Polly. The latter drew a big knife and cut the Constable so severely that he will die. Clark shot Polly killing him instantly. The Winchester Democrat, Friday, June 18, 1897

Poncer, Kimberly H.	Kimberly H. Poncer, 54, wife of William D. Poncer, left this earthly place for a better place on Thursday, Dec. 15, 2011. She is deeply mourned by all of her family and friends who loved her dearly. She was preceded in death by her father, George Harper and mother, Patsy R. Allen. She worked as a corporate operations manager with Fluidpower & Hydramotion in Lexington. In recent years she was unable to work because of a disabling fight with brain cancer. She is survived by her soulmate and husband William; brother and sister-in-law, Daryl and Suzanne Harper of Mount Sterling; father and mother-in-law, Robert and Sally Poncer of Danville; step-father James B. Allen of Winchester; two step-sons, James Poncer of Dayton, Ohio, and David Poncer of Danville; step-brother and wife John and Janice Allen of Winchester; step-sisters and their husbands, Nancy and Fielding Turner of Winchester, and Annie and DJ Gabbard of Winchester; a grandson, Timothy Poncer of Dayton, Ohio; nephews, Eric, Grant, Zack, Lucas, Andrew, Justin, Henry, Jeremy, Spencer, Tyler and Christopher; nieces and nephews, Sarah, Samantha and Kimberly; and many grand nieces and nephews, cousins and loving friends. She was an exceptional woman who would always have a smile and a hug for anyone. She started working at her father's restaurant business in high school, and then became an alumnus of the University of Kentucky. Later she worked for the state of Kentucky before moving on to work 20 plus years with Fluidpower where she retired on disability. A member of Central Christian Church, she enjoyed supporting the many ministries. Any memorials may be made to Central Christian Church. She will be deeply missed by all who came to know her. She is my dog star. M.B.S. forever and a day. The funeral will be Tuesday at 1:30 p.m. at Central Christian Church with the burial following at Lexington Cemetery. Visitation will be at the church from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. The Winchester Sun December 19, 2011

Pool, Willie		Three weeks ago today, Willie Pool, some fourteen years of age, was struck in the head with a brickbat by a negro boy named Allen Duvall, who came here not long ago from Harrodsburg. The skull was fractured, but the injury did not seem serious, and in a few days Willie was going about and has since been attending school. Last Saturday morning whilst preparing to go fishing he fell insensible and gradually sank until Sunday night, when he died. A postmortem examination showed that the skull had been crushed. Willie was the son of Mr. W. F. Pool, and was a bright little fellow. His family have the sympathy of the community in their affliction. The negro boy who killed him left town Sunday, but was captured Monday evening by Sheriff Evans. The examining trial took place Tuesday, _____, F. S. Poor House	Ordered that the committee of the Poor House of this county purchase a cart and oxen for the use of said poor house and the price of the same be judged of by said committee. Order Book 10; P. 186; July Court 1834 At the poor house The ladies of the W.C.T.U. held services Tuesday afternoon quite a number of ladies of the W.C.T.U., went out to the Poor House to hold services for the benefit of the inmates, who do not often have the comfort of spiritual cheer. They received a cordial welcome from Keeper Brock and his excellent wife, and all the inmates who were physically able were gathered together in the main building, where the President of the Society, Mrs. C.F. Klein conducted a most interesting and helpful service. The rooms of those who were disabled or too ill to attend, were visited and words of consolation and prayer were offered in their behalf. At the conclusion of the services the ladies distributed grapes, cakes and other delicacies to the older people, and the little ones were remembered with candies, paper dolls and picture cards. A handsome bouquet of beautiful flowers was also presented to each of the inmates. The occasion was pleasant and profitable to all concerned, and was an epoch in the lives of the unfortunates that will be gratefully remembered for many a day. The Democrat trusts that other societies and individuals will find time from the busy walks of life, to occasionally go out and take with them the spirit of the Master, and also not forgetting the dainty and nourishing comforts of the physical man. Porter, J. J.		Death of Dr. Porter Pastor of the Baptist church dies after a lingering illness – Will be buried here About 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning the spirit of Dr. J.J. Porter, pastor of the Baptist church, this city, returned to the God who gave it, and the tenement of clay to be carried to the tomb. For some time he had been a great sufferer from diabetes and other complications and while his condition was known to be serious, but few expected his death so suddenly. He was fifty-three years old and a native of Pulaski county, this State. A year or more ago, while residing at Joplin, Mo., he was called to the pulpit of the Baptist church, this city, then vacant, and accepted the call. He moved to this city, bought a home and identified himself with Winchester, and was an advocate of all things that have a tendency to build up our city, spiritually or financially. He leaves a wife and eight children, some of them grown and others small. He was a member of the local camp of Modern Woodmen, in which he held three thousand dollars insurance. He also belonged to other orders, but not to the local lodges. The remains will be buried in the local cemetery, and the funeral services will be held at three o'clock this afternoon at the Baptist church, services by Dr. J.W. Porter, of Lexington, and Dr. W.D. Powell, of Louisville. The pall bearers will be principally the Deacons of the church: N.H. Witherspoon, P.Y. Drake, J.K. Allen, W.H. Tucker, J.M. Stevenson, H.G. Garrett, Clay F. Haggard, S.P. Hodgkin, A.R. Martin, Clay Boone, John C. Allan, and Joe S. Lindsay. Honorary pall bearers: B.B. Bailey, D.D., J.W. Porter, D.D., W.D. Powell, D.D., T.C. Stackhouse, D.D., Rev. Richard French, J.N. Conkwright, J.W. Womack, C.E. Lyddane. The deceased was a highly educated man, of strong convictions, and forcible expression. He was counted as one of the strong men of the Baptist denomination, and had been quite successful both as a pastor and in the evangelistic field. His many friends will greatly deplore his untimely death. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, June 22, 1909 Funeral of Dr. Porter The Baptist church was crowded to repletion Tuesday afternoon at the funeral services of Dr. J.J. Porter. The invocation was by W.D. Powell, of Louisville, the Scripture reading by Dr. B.B. Bailey, of Shelbyville, the address by Dr. J.W. Porter, of Lexington, and the benediction by Dr. T.C. Stackhouse, of Fayette county. The remarks of Dr. Porter were directed to the life and character of the deceased as a man and a minister. The floral offerings were profuse and beautiful including a number of set pieces. The remains were carried to the cemetery where the grave was ready for its reception, but were not buried, on account of the non-arrival of Dr. Porter's brother, Rev. T.J. Porter, of Roanoke, Alabama. Dr. Porter was regarded as one of the strong

	men of his denominations in the South, and his services were in active demand. He was born in Pulaski county, this State, and grew to manhood there. He was educated at Bethel College Russellville, and took his theological course at the Louisville Baptist Theological Seminary. He was ordained in 1879 at Mt. Pisgah church, Pulaski county. The degree of Doctor of Divinity was conferred by Ewing College, Illinois. For quite awhile he preached in Owen county and afterward at Jerseyville, Illionois, Mexico and Joplin, Mo., coming to Winchester from the latter place. He was a profound thinker and had written several works on church subjects. He belonged to the Modern Woodmen, the Masons, Knights of Pythias, and Odd Fellows. He held life insurance to the amount of seven thousand dollars. His death removes from our midst a strong man of deep convictions and great earnestness of purpose and we shall not soon look upon his equal. The Winchester Democrat, Friday, June 25, 1909 Was buried Wednesday Rev. T.J. Porter, of Roanoke, Alabama, arrived here Tuesday night and the remains of his brother, Dr. J.J. Porter, which had been placed in the vault pending his arrival were buried the next morning, only members of the family being present. The Winchester Democrat, Friday, June 25, 1909 Insurance paid Mr. Roy Smith, Clerk of Raleigh Camp Modern Woodmen of America, received a draft yesterday for three thousand dollars from the Head Camp, being the amount of insurance carried by the late Rev. Porter, Pascal	THE BOY PREACHER Pascal Porter, the famous boy preacher, has been holding forth at the court house during the past week to crowded houses. At the beginning of his series of discourses most of our people were skeptical as to whether his sermons were his own production, but nearly every one is now convinced that they are genuine. In fact, to deny this would be only to shift the difficulty without removing it, for a memory capable of retaining an extensive series of sermons delivered in words far above the comprehension of the ordinary boy, would be but little less marvelous than a precocity of intellect that would be sufficient to produce them. Both his intellect and memory in this particular direction are remarkable, and his sermons are delivered with an impressiveness that convinces the hearer that he understands and means what he says. His grammar and pronunciation are not faultless, but his historical and scientific allusions are nearly always correct. He deals with the sin of man and the mercy, truth, and love of God in the abstract and shows the little knowledge of men and things that might be expected of one whose experience and observation have been so limited. His ideas are permisitic in the highest degree and he believes the world has been steadily growing worse since the fall of Adam, and that the time is almost here when God will destroy the existing order of things and inaugurate a new reign. He was born and now lives near Madison, Indiana, and will be thirteen years old in a few weeks. His parents are of English extraction and are persons of moderate means. He has not had the advantages of a finished education and shows no more than the usual aptitude for mathematics or other studies except historical, geography, language and biblical lore. At the age of five years he showed especial fondness for the new testament, and at the age of nine began speaking in public. He belongs to the religious sect known as the Adventists, who look for the early coming of Christ. In his nature he is much like other boys, being more than usually fond of athletic sports. He is the youngest of seven children but the only one of these that shows any special gifts. His precocity in that direction is possibly due to pre-natal influences, as several months before his birth the community where he was born was highly excited by a series of religious meetings, and his mother was particularly influenced by them. He is certainly a marvelous development of intellect, and well deserve the attention he receives. The Winchester Democrat, Wednesday October 2, 1889

Poston, Charles	Charles Poston died at his home near Gallatin, Tenn., Tuesday, aged seventy-six years. He was a native of this county and resided here until 1868 when he went to Tennessee, where he has since resided. More than half a century ago he married Miss Flanagan, of this city, and a sister of Judge James Flanagan; Mrs. Poston is still living. Mrs. J. N. Winn is a sister of the deceased. Mr. Poston was held in highest esteem here having been constable, Deputy Sheriff and Magistrate of Blue-ball precinct, and he also stood well in his Southern home. The remains were brought here for burial and yesterday were interred in the cemetery. George W. Flanagan met the funeral party in Louisville and accompanied it the remainder of the journey. The Winchester Democrat, Friday, March 12, 1897 Mrs. Mary F. Poston, widow of the late Charles Poston, who has resided in Tennessee for the past many years, has returned to Winchester and will spend her declining years with her brother, Judge James Flanagan. She has many friends here who gladly welcome her back. The Winchester Democrat, Friday, July 16, 1897.

Poston, Henry G.	The death of Henry G. Poston last Thursday takes from us an active useful citizen. A resident here during his entire life which had almost reached the three score years and ten allotted to man, he leaves few surviving him who are better known to the people of the county. A peculiar man in temperament and manner, he was not always understood by those with whom he mingled, and although as industrious as anybody that we ever knew, he was not successful in business. Earnest and almost fanatical in whatever he professed to believe, we who differed with him in nearly everything that men entertain opinions about have always found him generous and kindly, public-spirited and liberal minded. The crowd that gathered at his funeral though the rain Friday afternoon, showed the estimation in which a positive decided man will be held even though he differ with his neighbors. The Clark County Democrat, Wed., 10-16-1878 Death of H.G. Poston The following resolutions in relation to the death of H.G. Poston were adopted by the Board of Trustees of the Winchester City School at a meeting held Oct. 10th, 1878: Whereas, God in his providence has removed from our midst, Mr. H.G. Poston, one of our best citizens. Resolved, That with reverence and sorrow we recognize the hand of an all wise ruler in the withdrawing from a life of active usefulness a devoted Christian, and faithful citizen. Resolved, That we cheerfully testify that he was a warm friend and advocate of our school enterprise, that his counsels and actions were entirely free from selfishness, full of zeal and earnestness. Resolved, That we extend to his friends and especially to his stricken family our warmest sympathies. Resolved, That this school be dismissed to attend his funeral services in a body. By order of the Board. J.V. Morton, Ch'n. J.W. Fitch, Sec'y. The Clark County Democrat, Wednesday, October 16, 1878 Died – October 10th at his residence in Winchester, H.G. Poston, James AA	A Fatal Shot. Friday night about ten o'clock, James Poston, a negro who lived in Poynterville, was fatally shot by Hannah Boone, a negro woman with whom he had been living for several years. There were no witnesses to the shooting. She says it was done in self defense, while he in his dying statement, said the shooting was entirely unprovoked. They have had trouble frequently, and it is said that he broke her jaw in one of their fights. She gave herself up and was lodged in jail, where she now is. The wounded man lived until Sunday when he died. Coroner Wills impaneled a jury composed of H. T. Strother, J. M. Lawrence, J. S. Dills, M. E. Pace, J. C. Daugherty and J. M. Powell whose verdict simply recited the shooting without attempting to fix blame. The Grand Jury will be in session today and the matter will probably be referred to them for investigation. The prisoner is an exceedingly tough character and is a sister to Cora Boone who is in jail charged with robbing the tailor, Sheridan. Potter, George		Another Big Feud. One Killed and One Wounded in the First Encounter. Whitesburg, Ky., July 14.—The United States mail carrier arriving here from Elkhorn creek, ten miles from here in the Eastern part of Letcher county, tells of another shooting there in which one man was killed outright and one severely wounded. For several years there has been a difference growing between George Potter, aged 31, a notorious mountain tough, and Bob and John Killens, near neighbors. For six months they have been at daggers' points, and a clash had been expected momentarily. A month ago Potter and his brother attempted to assassinate the Killens, but failed, after firing six shots. They never met again until Sunday afternoon, when the clash followed. They met at a wayside store, all armed to the teeth. George Potter, the most fearless man in the lot, opened fire on the Killens. William Potter followed, a close second. All their bullets went wide of the mark. The Killens, burning with bitter hatred, returned fire, and deadly volleys were exchanged for a few moments. When the smoke moved away George Potter, the Elkhorn creek terror for many years, lay dead on the ground, while Bob Killens was severely wounded. The Winchester Democrat, Friday, July 18, 1902
Potter, Glenna H.		Glenna H. Potter, wife of Mitchell Potter, of Sewell Shop Road, passed away Tuesday. She was a 65-year-old native of Montgomery County, the daughter of the late Holt Hall and Mildred Barnett Richards. She was a graduate of the University of Kentucky, a retired accountant, co-owner and co-operator of Big Ridge Farms in Clark and Montgomery counties, a member of the Baptist church and a loving wife, mother, and grandmother. She is survived by her husband of 47 ½ years, Mitchell; a daughter, Lynn (Keith) Ratliff and granddaughter, Allison Paige Ratliff, all of Winchester, a brother, Lonnie Hon of Richmond; a sister, Phyllis Pelfrey of Somerset; two uncles, Jack (Jeanetta) Barnett of Camargo and Merle (Judy) Barnett of Jeffersonville; several nieces and nephews; and two special friends, Joyce Roach and Peggy Burris. She was preceded in death by her stepfather, James Hon. Her funeral will be at 1 p.m. Thursday at Herald & Stewart Home for Funerals, with burial in Machpelah Cemetery. Potts, Smith Vivion		Died—At his residence near Pinchem, Wednesday, Rev. Smith Vivion Potts, aged 79 years. His funeral was preached the next day by Rev. Richard French and the remains interred in the cemetery here. He was three times married. His first wife was Miss Hunt, of this county; the second was Mrs. Mobly of Madison county and the last Mrs. Frances Ecton, who survives him. By his first wife he had two children. Mrs. Allan Bush, who died some years ago and Ed Potts of Shelby county. By his second wife he had one son who was killed by the cars a few years ago. In the death of Mr. Potts, Clark county has lost one of her best and noblest men. Probably no one who has lived here for a long time has done more for the good of his fellow men. More than fifty years ago he began active work in the ministry of the Baptist church and kept it up until the infirmities of age forced him to quit. He was for a long time pastor of Mt. Olive and Ephesus churches in this county, but the most of his work was done as an evangelist in the mountains. On foot or on horseback, preaching in the rude schoolhouses, in the home under the trees anywhere he could secure an audience, he labored for many years with great success, but with little pay. He was among the last of the pioneer preachers. The Winchester Democrat, Wednesday, April 5, 1893 County Court Orders Frazer Collingsworth appraised administrator of S. V. Potts, with Richard Finney, Lewis Rainey and Minor Rainey appraisers of the estate. The Winchester Democrat, Wednesday, October 4, 1893 DIED—Died at his home, near Clay City, of a complication of diseases, Dec. 27 th , James Potts, aged 65 years. The deceased was a brother of Rev. S. V. Potts who died in this county about two years ago. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Z. W. Pigg. The Winchester Democrat, Friday, January 4, 1895. Death of Mrs. Collingsworth. Mrs. Frazer Collingsworth died May 22 nd , at the home of Woodson Owen at Missouri, of cancer, aged eighty-four years. She was originally Miss Frances Rainey, a native of this county. In early life she married Minor Griggs. They lived together until past middle age, and by industry and economy, accumulated a competence. The husband finally sickened and died and Mrs. Griggs, after the conventional time of mourning had elapsed, married William Estis. The angel of death passed that way again, and again Mrs. Estis was a widow. Fully believing that it is not good for either man or woman to be alone, she again stood before nuptial altar, this time with Jas. Ecton. Before many years had elapsed, she followed his remains to their last resting place, but nothing daunted, she again laid aside her widow's weeds, this time at the solicitation of Rev. Smith V. Potts. Death is not respecter of persons, and it was not very long before he, too, was gathered to his fathers, leaving a disconsolate widow. Still convinced that marriage is not a failure, and longing for the strong arm of a younger husband to support her declining Frazer Collingsworth, a young man who worked for her. For various reasons this marriage was not a happy one, and the groom left after squandering much of his wife's possessions. She shortly afterward obtained a divorce from him and some time ago went to Missouri. It was reported here that she had married again a few months ago, but it is said to be untrue. The Winchester Democrat, Friday, June 6, 1902.
Potts, son		Married; At Lexington Wednesday, W. C. Payne and Mrs. Mary E. Potts, the daughter-in-law of Rev. Smith V. Potts, of this county, bride was the widow of Colonel Potts, son of Rev. Smith V. Powell, child	AA	Log Lick Items-An unintentional homicide occurred in this precinct last Sunday. Some Negroes had congregated at Green Hisle's. Sid Shepherd and Aaron Chambers, a boy about fourteen years old, got to playing, Shepherd, who is a very ill natured fellow soon got mad and began throwing stones at Chambers. The second stone he threw hit a little six-year -old boy of Lizzie Powell, colored, on the head just above the right eye, inflicting a wound from which he died on the following Thursday. Shepherd is a grown man and an extremely bad fellow. He is the very party that is said to have broken into Elkin's store at this place some time age and stole some dry goods. The Clark County Democrat, Wed., 3-30-1881

	Last week Sid Shepherd, a troublesome Negro, was arrested for drunkenness and lodged in the county jail. It was afterward found out that he was wanted upon a more serious charge. About Christmas he shot and seriously wounded another Negro in Goode's precinct for which a warrant was issued. He left the county and while at work on the L. C. & V. railroad in Estill county he killed a Negro named Ray, of this city. Several years ago he killed a boy with a rock near his former home in Goode's, for which he served a term in the penitentiary. In default of $200.00 bail he is in jail to await the action of the Circuit Court. The Winchester Democrat, Wed., 5-7-1888

Powell, George	Overcome By Gas. On the farm of Jesse Glover there is an old well about thirty-five feet in depth, and which was being blown deeper. Shortly before night Tuesday a blast was put in and after the explosion, George Powell decided to go down and see the effects of the blast. The deadly carbonic acid gas had settled at the bottom of the well, and before reaching

	the bottom he was overcome and fell. Nev. Glover tried to go to his assistance but was overcome and had to be helped out. Jesse Glover also made an effort but was foiled by the fatal gas. The body was in the well for some time before it was recovered, and then life was extinct. Coroner Brinegar held an inquest the following day with the following jury: N. B. Sledd, C. S. Ramsey, Noah Shelton, J. W. Howard, Alonzo Shelton and C. E. Wilson, who returned a verdict in accordance with the facts given above. The remains were brought to the home of his father, Robert Powell, on Vine street, this city, where the funeral was preached yesterday by Rev. Richard French and the remains were buried in the Winchester cemetery. Mr. Powell was about twenty-five year of age and was twice married. His first wife was Miss Mary M. Hays, of this city. Powers, Clay	"In The Shadows Of The Cumberland" Marked papers containing advance notices of a book, soon to be issued with the above title has been received at this office. I cannot speak of the book, but I know something of the author, Frederick W. Powers. He is a son of Clay Powers who was engaged in the tavern and saloon business at Morehead, Rowan county, Kentucky, during the reign of terror produced by the Tollivers between 1880 and 1890. I did business along the line of the C. & O. railroad and Clay Powers was one of my customers. Getting off the fast train about 1 o'clock one morning I walked across to Powers' tavern and found it wrecked. The windows and doors were broken in. The Tollivers, who also sold whisky, had determined to drive Powers out of business. On my advice Powers left Morehead and went to Covington, Kentucky, where he conducted a saloon. After the annihilation of the Tollivers by a posse of citizens under the command of Boone Logan, who now lives at Pineville, Ky., Powers returned to Morehead and died there several years ago. When Clay Powers left Morehead his son, Fred, was about fifteen years old, and was a wild boy. His life had been spent amidst the very worst surroundings. At Covington he was brought under better influences and attended school. He did not return to Morehead with his father. He learned the jeweler's trade and is now doing a prosperous business at Ashland, Ky. We will look forward to the appearance of his book with more than ordinary interest. Poynter, Wiley Taul		Death of W.T. Poynter Wiley Taul Poynter died yesterday morning at Shelbyville, of kidney trouble, aged fifty-eight years. He was a native of Franklin county but came to Winchester in early life. When seventeen years old he taught school here, many of our most prominent citizens having been his pupils. While quite a young man he married Miss Pattie Poston, a daughter of the late Henry Poston. He was afterward a bookkeeper in the private bank of his father-in-law, and when the Clark county National Bank was instituted in 1865 he was its first cashier, a position he filled with much ability. His wife having died, he married Miss Kate E. Winn, a sister of Miss Lucy Winn, of this city. She did not live long and after her death he married Miss Clara Martin, of Paris, who survives him. Always a man of strong convictions, and an ardent Methodist, he entered the ministry and at once took a front rank. His first charge was the church of this place, and he afterward preached at Paris, Millersburg and other places. About fifteen years ago he took charge of the Science Hill school at Shelbyville where he has since labored. He leaves three children by his first wife, Henry Poynter, Cashier of the Shelbyville Bank; Fletcher Poynter of the Shelby Sentinel and Miss Annie Poynter, of the same city. By his second wife he had no children, while he has had several by his last wife. He leaves a number of brothers and sisters, among them Jas. W. and John D. of his city. The remains will be interred at Lexington, the morning at eight o'clock. The Winchester Democrat, Friday, July 31, 1896 Preparations are being made to erect a monument to Rev. W. Taul Poynter who is buried in the Lexington cemetery.

Poyntz, F. Edwin		DUEL IN THE STREET. Dr. Ed Poyntz Fatally and John C. Siler Dangerously Wounded. Paint Lick, Ky., Oct. 21.-As the result of a pistol duel here at 7:30 o'clock Dr. Ed Poyntz is dying and John C. Siler is dangerously wounded. Poyntz has five wounds while Siler has three. Siler is a hotel proprietor and well known horseman. The trouble arose over Poyntz inviting a friend who was stopping at Siler's hotel to visit him at his boarding house. Apparently they drew their revolvers about the same time. They were but 15 feet apart and each emptied his revolver. Poyntz has a wound through the body just below the heart, which, it is believed, will prove fatal. He was shot through both wrists and in the shoulder. Siler was struck in the hip, in the right hand and the tip of his left ear cut away by a bullet from Poyntz's revolver. Poyntz used both hands in firing, and while bringing his pistol into position after he had received the wound in the body which may kill him, was shot through the wrists. The revolver fell from his hands, and he fell, exclaiming: "My god, he has killed me." Siler stood coolly firing as fast as he could work his revolver. Both had 38-caliber weapons, one a Smith & Wesson, and the other a Colt's. They had been good friends until a few days ago. Dr. Poyntz is the son of Dr. L. M. Poyntz, of Richmond, prominent in the organization of the Kentucky Confederate Veteran association. The Winchester Democrat, Friday, October 24, 1902. Street Fight Dr. F. Edwin Poyntz, a prominent young physician, and Mr. John Siler, a hotel keeper, engaged in a street fight at Paint Lick, exchanging from eight to twelve shots. Both men sustained dangerous wounds. Later--Poyntz has since died, and Siler will probably die also. The Winchester Democrat, Fri., Oct. 24, 1902

Prather, Belle	AA	Suicide Belle Prather, of color, committed suicide about 8:30 o'clock Tuesday morning by drowning. She was drunk with dope and threw herself into a pool 16 feet deep that belongs to the Winchester Roller Mills Company. Persons in the neighborhood saw her plunge in and gave the alarm. Some colored men secured ice hooks and drew her out, after perhaps twenty minutes. Dr. Holmes was summoned and for an hour he worked heroically assisted by several strong colored men, but to no avail. The coroner's jury was impaneled and after hearing witnesses, decided that she committed suicide. The Winchester Sun-Sentinel, Thursday, September, 26, 1907

Prewitt, Caswell	Sketch of Nominee. We extract the following sketch of the Democratic nominee for State Senator from the Mt. Sterling advocate: "Mr. Caswell Prewitt, Democratic nominee for the State Senator for the counties of Clark, Bourbon and Montgomery, is 58 years old, a prosperous farmer, and possessing much general information having been a close student. He is a Democrat, not "because father was" but because he believes the principles of the great party are for the betterment of the majority of the people. He is the son of James and Henrietta Prewitt, who reared twelve children. Those living are Allen, Clifton and Mrs. N. B. Young. He has a half-brother in Clark county W. F. Prewitt. This is Mr. Prewitt's first experience in politics. He was educated in the common schools of this county. He married Miss Annie Kennie, of Bourbon, and they have seven children, Clifton Jr., Eugene, Wilmott, Henry, Mrs. Dawson Thurston Minneapolis, Minn., Mrs. Edward Prewitt and Anna Caswell. Mr. Prewitt lives on the farm where he was born. He is a member of Bethlehem Christian Church, Clark county, where for years he has served as elder. Mr. Prewitt is one of Montgomery's best citizens; one who will be a credit to his constituency, ever laboring to enact or repeal laws for the best interests of the people. The Winchester Democrat, Friday, June 28, 1901. Death of Senator Prewitt Senator Caswell Prewitt died at an early hour Saturday morning at the Good Samaritan Hospital, Lexington. Nine days previously he was operated upon for gall stones. His clean life and strong constitution, was in his favor, but his age, sixty-six years, was against him and he failed to recover. He was a native of Montgomery county, a son of James Prewitt, whose descendants for several years have held annual reunions. He is survived by his wife formerly Miss Anna Kenny, of Bourbon county; also by three sons and four daughters. For four years he was State Senator for the district composed of Bourbon, Clark and Montgomery counties, and was succeeded by Senator Ecton, of this county. He was a prominent church man and for years had been an Elder in Bethlehem Christian church. He leaves a large circle of relatives, many of them live in this county. The remains were buried at Mt. Sterling Sunday afternoon. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, August 4, 1908

Prewitt, Caswell Jr.	Reported Drowned The rumor has been current for some time that Cas Prewitt, son of Cliff Prewitt, one of the wealthiest farmers of Montgomery county, who with Chas. Taylor of this county, started for the Klondyke mining region; was drowned in the Yukon river together with three of his companions. Young Prewitt joined Mr. Taylor at Seattle, and they left that city via the Skaguay route. The last heard of them at home was a letter dated Oct. 4 th at Fort Bennett. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, January 4, 1898 Kentucky Boys Safe The many friends of Caswell Prewitt, Jr. who some months ago started for the Klondike region, will be glad to learn that he has again been heard from. Mr. R. P. Taylor, of Clark county, received a few days ago a letter from his brother, Chas. Taylor, who accompanied Mr. Prewitt. The letter was dated December 1, 1897, and was addressed from their camp on Stewart river, which river, we find by looking on the map, is in the heart of the Klondike region. The letter was brief, merely stating that they were all well.—Mt. Sterling Sentinel-Democrat The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, January 18, 1898

Prewitt, Jacob S.	Mrs. John G. Winn received a telegram Sunday afternoon stating that her brother, Jacob S. Prewitt, had died at Pomona, California, the day before. Mr. Prewitt had for years been afflicted with asthma, and had gone to southern California, where he seemingly found much relief. He was only 25 years of age and unmarried. The blow falls with stunning force on his sister, as she was not looking for such unfavorable termination to his trouble. In consequence of the washouts in the West, communication is difficult, and as yet, the friends here are not fully advised as to what the funeral arrangements will be.—Mt. Sterling Advocate. Mr. Prewitt was a son of the late Richard Prewitt, of Pine Grove. He has one brother, David, who is a student at the Kentucky University. His sister Katherine, lately married John G. Winn, of Mt. Sterling, and another, Julia is unmarried. The Winchester Democrat, Wednesday, March 11, 1891 The remains of Jake Prewitt, who died in California recently, were interred at Lexington last Tuesday. They were seven days on the road from the Pacific Coast. The Winchester Democrat, Wednesday, March 18, 1891
Prewitt, James	Mr. James Prewitt, one of the oldest and wealthiest citizens of Montgomery county, died at his residence yesterday morning at 2 o'clock. His funeral will be preached at his home at 10 o'clock today by Eld. J. W. Harding. The Semi-Weekly Sun, Tue., 5-6-1879 Thomson Station Items-In the death of Uncle Jimmie Prewitt, his family has lost a good and kind father, the wife a devoted husband, and the neighborhood one of its best and most kind hearted citizens. Our prayer is that their loss may forever be eternal gain. They have our deepest sympathy in this the hour of their sad bereavement. The Semi-Weekly Sun, Tue., 5-18-1879 The will of James Prewitt, deceased, probated last Monday. Wm. F. Caswell and Allen Prewitt, his son appointed executors. The heirs meet today to make a division among themselves. No debts save a doctor's bill and funeral expenses. He had already given his nine children $15,000 each, and they will now get about $1,000, each, additional. The widow gets 300 acres of land and the home residence and what stock she wants on the place. Mr. Prewitt, at the time of making a division of his property among his children, was the wealthiest man in the county, and he took the right view to help his children while young and starting in life. Prewitt, John T.		JOHN T. PREWITT died at his home in Louisville Wednesday afternoon of an overdose of chloral, taken to induce sleep. He was formerly a resident of this county and lived at Vinewood. Although a comparatively young man, he had amassed a comfortable fortune, much of which has been made in Louisville real estate in the last few years. He leaves a wife and one child. The remains passed through here Friday en route to Mt. Sterling for burial. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, April 10, 1894. The last will and testament of John T. Prewitt, who recently died at Louisville, has been probated in the Jefferson county Court. He leaves two-thirds of his real estate to his wife, also his life insurance amounting to $10,000. Prewitt, John W.		DEATH OF JOHN PREWITT One of the most distressing accidents that has befallen our people for a long time was the one that resulted in the death of John W. Prewitt, one of Clark county's most prominent citizens, at the Growers Tobacco Warehouse in Louisville last Tuesday. This was the day for inauguration of sales at the new warehouse, and in consequence, a large crowd was present. The elevator shaft of the building is surrounded by a low railing near which Mr. Prewitt was standing. The surging crowd pressed him upon the railing which gave way with him, precipitating him through the shaft. In falling the base of his skull struck the timbers, crushing his skull and inflicting injuries from which he died in a short time without recovering consciousness. He was removed to the home of his brother-in-law, George R. Snyder, from whence the remains were brought to this city for interment. His funeral was preached at the Christian church by Rev. J. J. Chisholm and J. S. Kendrick, to one of the largest audiences ever assembled in this city for a similar purpose. Mr. Prewitt was a native of Montgomery county but had lived here many years. He was one of our most successful farmers, and when the Shorthorn was king he owned a number. Many of his herd have been victors in the fair ring over some of the best in the land. When the tobacco growers revolted under the threatened consolidation of the tobacco warehouses, he was one of the most prominent leaders of the movement that culminated in the establishment of the Growers Warehouse. He had lately removed to Louisville to assist in the establishment of this warehouse. He leaves a wife, nee Miss Goff, and three children Ben and Nelson, of this county and Mrs. Henry Nelson of Lexington. A meeting of the Board of Directors of the Kentucky Tobacco Growers Association, was held Tuesday night, and the following preamble and resolution adopted: "Whereas, in the inscrutable providence of God, a sad accident has caused the death of our colleague, J. W. Prewitt: therefore, "Resolved: that in his death the Kentucky Growers Association has lost a valuable and efficient officer, the farmers an honest and faithful friend, the State a patriotic citizen, and the family an affectionate and indulgent father. 2nd. That the deceased combined every virtue going to make up the perfect gentleman. Modest and unassuming in deportment, kind, affectionate to his family and friends, courteous and generous to all who knew him. 3rd. That we tender to his family, on whom the blow falls with severest force, our sincere sympathy.

4th. That the Secretary is instructed to spread these resolutions on the records of the Association and that a copy be furnished to the family of the deceased, and also to the C. J., the Farmers' Home Journal and the Clark county papers.

Mrs. Margaret Prewitt has brought suit for $ 25,000 damages against the Union Tobacco Warehouse and the Tobacco Growers' Association for the loss of her husband John W. Prewitt, who fell through the elevator, into the cellar by the breaking of the railing against which he was leaning.
The Democrat, Wednesday, November 25, 1891.

THE farm of the late John W. Prewitt, two and one-half miles from the city on the Paris pike was sold publicly Tuesday and was bought by O. and Calloway Crawford, late of Breathitt county, at $ 80 per acre. The farm contains 700 acres.
The Democrat, Wednesday, September 28, 1892.

SQUIRE W. N. WEST has brought suit against the heirs of John W. Prewitt for $ 840 which he claims as commission for bringing about the sale of the Prewitt farm.
The Democrat, Wednesday, February 22, 1893.

In January, 1891, John W. Prewitt, of this county attended the opening sale of the new Tobacco Growers Association, of which he was an officer. Much interest was manifested in the success of the new warehouse, as it was the outgrowth of a fight against what the growers thought extortionate charges of the warehousemen, and the building was crowded. By some means Mr. Prewitt fell down the elevator shaft and sustained injuries from which he died in a short time. His wife, Mrs. Margaret A. Prewitt, brought suit for $25,000 against the Company, alleging criminal negligence in failing to have a proper railing around the shaft. The case was tried in the Louisville Circuit Court this week and after a trial lasting several days, a verdict was rendered awarding Mrs. Prewitt $6,312.50.
The Winchester Democrat, Wednesday, May 3, 1893

Some time ago, Mrs. Mary Prewitt secured a verdict of $7,500 damages for the death of her husband John W. Prewitt, who was killed in the Union Tobacco Warehouse at Louisville, Monday a new trial of the case was ordered by Circuit Judge Field.
The Winchester Democrat, Wednesday, November 29, 1893

The death of Capt. J. L. Wheeler brings to mind the fact that death is fast decimating the ranks of the Muckletonian Club, at one time the most prominent hunting and fishing club of the South. It was organized in 1872 with eighteen of the most prominent men of Winchester and vicinity as members. In addition to scores of minor trips they occasionally went on more extensive ones to Florida, Arkansas, the Pacific Slope, etc. These trips were truly days of true pleasure and good fellowship. Not a word of discord ever marred the harmony of their meetings. Col. R. N. Winn was the first President and still fills that position, although the remaining members are so few and scattered that the meetings of late years have been few. The first member die was John J. Eubank, followed in succession by Ben P. Goff, S. Grant Jackson, M. G. Taylor, Jas. D. Gay, David A. Gay, D. T. Buckner, John W. Prewitt, John A. Judy and J. L. Wheeler. The surviving members are r. N. Winn, Leeland Hathaway, J. D. Simpson, A. H. Sympon, and T. F. Phillips, of this city; Geo. R. Snyder and R. J. Snyder, of Louisville and Sam McKee, of Philadelphia. Ten have passed over the dark river while eight await the summons to join their comrades on the other side.

Chas. B. Stewart, Capt. B. A. Tracy and J. Scott Renick are in Louisville this week as witnesses in the suit of Mrs. John W. Prewitt against the Tobacco Warehouse Co., for damages for the death of her husband, which come up to-day. She sued for twenty-five thousand dollars and received a verdict of sixty-three hundred dollars. A new trial was granted at the instance of the Company, but Mrs. Prewitt has secured much new and valuable evidence and will present a much stronger case than at the previous trial.

The case of Mrs. Mary Prewitt for the damages for the death of her husband, the late John W. Prewitt, was called in the Louisville Circuit Court last week and passed on account of the serious illness of Henry Nelson's child.
The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday June 22, 1894

The suit of Mrs. Mary Prewitt, for damages for the loss of her husband, came up again this week in the Louisville Circuit Court and was postponed until this morning, when it is thought it will be tried.
The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday June 26, 1894

	In the Louisville Common Pleas Court Wednesday, Mrs. J. W. Prewitt was awarded $4,500 as damages against the Union Tobacco Warehouse Co., for the death of her husband. She sued for $25,000, and at a previous trial was given $6,120.50. The company secured a new trial. The Winchester Democrat, Friday, June 29, 1894 New Trial Granted. AT Louisville Tuesday Judge Fieldagain granted the defendants a new trial in the case of Prewitt's executors against the Union Warehouse Company. This is the case for damages growing out of the death of John W. Prewitt, of this county who was killed by falling down an elevator shaft at the warehouse above mentioned. His fall was occasioned by the railing giving way, and his executors brought suit for $ 25,000 damages. It has been tried twice. The first time the jury awarded $ 6,312. A new trial was granted the Company and the second verdict was $ 4,500. Still they were not satisfied and a new trial has again been granted them. The Winchester Democrat, Friday, April 12, 1895. An increased amount In January 1891, John W. Prewitt, one of the most influential men in the county attended the opening sale of the Union Tobacco Warehouse Company, of Louisville. A large crowd was in attendance, and a speech from Gen. John S. Williams was a feature of the occasion. Mr. Prewitt was leaning against a temporary railing erected in front of the elevator shaft. The crowd pressing upon the railing caused it to give way and Mr. Prewitt was precipitated to the floor below, sustaining injuries which caused his death in a short time. Mrs. Prewitt brought suit for $25,000 damages. When it came to trial the jury awarded her $6,312.50. The Warehouse Company secured a new trial and this time Mrs. Prewitt received a verdict for $4,500. An error in the instructions led Judge Field to grant a new trial. Mrs. Prewitt's lawyers have asserted that each trial enabled them to present a stronger case and it seems they were right, for Tuesday the jury brought in a verdict of $12,000. When the suit was first brought the Kentucky Tobacco Growers Association was made a party to the suit but the suit against the Association was afterward dismissed. The Winchester Democrat, Friday, January 17, 1896 IN the Court of Appeals this week was argued the case of the Union Warehouse Co., vs. John W. Prewitt's Administrator. John W. Prewitt, of this county, was killed some years ago by falling down an elevator shaft in the Union Warehouse and his executor was awarded damages by the Court. The Warehouse Company appealed and the case seems nearing solution. The Winchester Democrat, Friday, October 11, 1898. Judgment Affirmed Several years ago John W. Prewitt, one of the most prominent farmers of this county was killed by falling through an elevator shaft of a tobacco warehouse at Louisville. His heirs brought suit for damages and the case has been tried three times, the jury giving heavy damages each time. The last verdict of the lower court for $12,000 damages was affirmed by the Court of Appeals Wednesday. The Winchester Democrat, Fri., May 5, 1899 The Prewitt Case. In affirming the damages case of J. W. Prewitt's administratrix against the Union tobacco Warehouse, the Court of appeals says: First—A verdict of $13,000 for the death of plaintiff's interests is not exceeded. Second—Tobacco warehouse company sued for causing the death of plaintiff's intestate by its failure to place sufficient guards around an elevator hole cannot escape liability on the ground that plaintiff's intestate under a contract between defendant and as association of which he was chief officer and agent had not right on use that part of the warehouse where the elevator was, as it appears the defendant, with knowledge of the danger, anticipated such use by plaintiff's intestate and others associated with him. Third—in an action for causing the death of another by willful neglect a plea of contributory negligence is not available. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, May 16, 1899 Squire West Won Several years ago Squire W. N. West sued the estate of the late John Prewitt for about $800 as Commission for selling a farm to Calloway Crawford. Judge Scott gave peremptory instructions for the defense and the estate won. The case was taken to the Court of Appeals where it was reversed and sent back. At the second trial West got a verdict for $840. It was again taken to the higher court where it was affirmed with damages Saturday. The entire amount which West will get amounts to about $1,000. The Winchester Democrat, Tue., March 20, 1900

The proofs of his death were mailed by the local council on September 8th and the draft for payment was mailed September 15th, a remarkably prompt response. The Winchester Democrat, Fri., Sept. 25, 1903 Sorrow and Pleasure. In sorrow we remember our brothers that have gone over the river; with pleasure we do honor to their memory. The Elk's memorial Services at the Opera House Sunday afternoon combined the two-sorrow and pleasure. The departed brothers in whose memory the services were held were, J. Edward Mitchell, Rodney Haggard, George W. Flanagan and N. V. Prewitt. The program as printed in last week's paper was followed. The singing by the Winchester Choral Society was fine indeed. "Jesus Lover of My Soul," by Miss Elizabeth Robinson, Mrs. Savage and Messrs. Hodgkin and Wentworth was equal to the very best. The Solo by Mrs. Savage was especially pleasing. The address was delivered by Col. W. C. P. Breckinridge. It was the best, because it was the last we have heard him make. It is sad to think that in not so many years Breckinridge will be heard no more. He is a young man for his age of 66, and while we trust there are many more years of brightness and usefulness left to him, we realize that when he is gone there will be a vacancy that cannot be filled. After the service the Elks, with Col. Breckinridge, repaired to the Club Room where an hour was spent in cordial greetings. Col. Breckinridge kindly gave his autograph to the large number that asked for it. The Sun-Sentinel, Thursday, December 10, 1903. Beautiful Tribute Winchester Lodge, B. P. O. Prewitt, Richard Hickman	Richard Hickman Prewitt, 74, departed this life on Wednesday, Jan. 4, 2012, at the University of Kentucky Chandler Medical Center following a brief illness. He is survived by two sons, David J., who resides in Texas, and Jacob H. who resides in Lexington; brothers, David E. who resides in Pennsylvania, William C. who resides in South Carolina; and a sister, Mary T., who resides in Paris, France. Richard was born and raised in the Philadelphia, Pa., area, the son of Richard and Jean Prewitt. Richard was in the class of 1956 at Culver Military Academy in Culver, Ind. He matriculated at Swarthmore College in Pennsylvania after his junior year at Culver and later graduated from PMC College in Chester, Pa., with a bachelor of science degree in engineering, followed by a master's degree in mechanical engineering from Penn State University. He worked as an engineer for both Burroughs Corp and SKF for a number of years. He then moved to Winchester and worked with his father at Prewitt Associates in Lexington as a materials engineer. He then worked for many years as an engineer for the city of Lexington, where he was an early adopter of harnessing biogases as a significant energy source for the city water treatment system. His analysis of surface water infiltration resulted in additional reserve capacity for the county water supply and his studies of surface temperatures and underground toxic gas buildup enhanced safer working conditions for workers. He retired from the city during 1996. Blessed with a probing and analytical mind, Richard used his talents and time to conduct research in Africa to reverse desertification in the Chad Basin, which was published. He held patents for several electric devices. Richard was a member of the Bluegrass Mensa, qualification for which requires scoring in the top two percent nationally on a standardized IQ test. He also was involved with the Fort Boonesboro Foundation. Richard was a past member of both the Cave Run Sailing Association and Riverton Yacht Club. He had successfully competed against Olympic medal winners in the Lightning Class during the 1960s and 1970s. Funeral services will be 2 p.m. Friday at Milward Funeral Directors — Broadway with visitation at 1 p.m. Burial will follow in the Lexington Cemetery. A reception will be 4 p.m. following the burial at the Green Tree Antique and Tea Room, 521 West Short St., Lexington, KY. The online obituary can be found at www.milwardfuneral.com. The Winchester Sun January 11, 2012

Price, John	AA	John Price, colored, was shot and fatally wounded by Farmer Ed B. Woods at Elk Chester, near Lexington, Thursday afternoon. Price was drunk, and came to Wood, for whom he had been working, and asked for a settlement. Wood told him that he was too drunk to understand figures, and stated that he would pay him when he got sober. Price grew angry, and drawing a heavy revolver, struck Woods over the head with the weapon, cutting him severely. Woods ran into the house, got a shotgun and fired a load of buckshot into Price's left side. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, July 7, 1896

Price, Ollie W.	Death of O. W. Price The many friends of Ollie W. Price will be pained to hear of his tragic death. The following particulars we gather from the Lexington Press: Its seems that difficulty has existed for some time between him and his wife's step father Len Anderson, near Poplar Plains, in Fleming county. Mr. Price was farming near the residence of Anderson, and had to pass that way as he was driving a load of hay to town. When passed Anderson's place the old man came out to the road and commenced throwing stones at Price. At this Price jumped from his wagon, drew a pistol, commenced firing, and continued to do so until Anderson had retreated nearly to the house. Thomas Anderson, the son of the retreating man, saw what was going on, got his shotgun, and as Price came near the house, fired both barrels and blew his brains out. This took place at 1 o'clock on Friday, and he died four hours later. The distressing intelligence reached his mother Friday night, and to add to her misfortune, she missed the morning train yesterday by about three minutes, and was consequently detained at home. Mr. D. W. Price, the oldest brother, is now in Leadville, Colo. and the second brother, at Chicago. The afflicted mother and family have the sympathy of the entire community. Mr. Price was born and raised in Clark, and had moved from Lexington to Poplar Plains last spring. He leaves a young wife and one child. His remains were buried at Millersburg. Clark County The Winchester Democrat, Thur., 8-13-1879 The Anderson's were tried at Poplar Plains, Fleming County, last week, for the murder of O. W. Price, and were held over. Old man Anderson's bail was put at $4,000 and, Tom Anderson's at $5,000. The Price burying ground is in the Winchester cemetery, but Oliver was interred in the lot of his wife's family, in Fleming county, in accordance with the wishes of the widow. The Semi-Weekly Sun, Tue., 8-19-1879 THE MURDER OF OLLIE PRICE The examining trial of the Anderson's for killing Ollie W. Price took place at Poplar Plains last week before two magistrates. Our special reporter for the Democrat gives us below all that can be learned about the unfortunate affair; The facts of the murder of Ollie Price have been garbled and grossly miss-stated in the public print. The facts as they were brought out before the examining court are as follows: The witnesses were firm, clear and truthful and are men of excellent character. They swore that Price was riding by the elder Anderson's house on a load of hay, when Anderson, Sr. called out to him, "Why do you gaze at me?" Price gave no reply Anderson then said, "If you want anything come down from there and we will settle it." Price then spoke saying, " You are a damned thief." Anderson then picked up a rock and threw it at the head of Price. Price avoided the lick on the head by a dodge. Price drew his pistol and threw it down to fire but it did not go off, but he cocked it again and fired at Anderson. Anderson by this time had turned and was running from Price. Price then put up his pistol and drove his wagon along (he still on top of the hay) for about 20 yards. The son, who killed Price, came out of a store when Price had driven 20 yards from the spot where he fired, and raising his shot gun, loaded with buck shot, fired at Price. Price dodging his head in the hay, the shot missed him Anderson first fired while running toward Price. The second time he stopped still, took deliberate aim and killed him. Price's horses were trotting when the first shot was fired, and continued

	to move while Anderson ran after him. So the killing occurred about 50 yards from the spot where he first fired at Anderson, Sr. When old man Anderson went up to the store where his son was with his double barreled shot gun, which he had evidently loaded with buck shot for the purpose of killing Price, young Anderson asked his father if he was hurt. The witness did not hear his reply, but Anderson at once started toward Price. Young Anderson, it is said, will be proven to have said that Price could not live there. This is, in short, the testimony substantially with reference to another of the long list of brutal murders that disgrace the record of Kentucky crimes. The parties charged with this murder were bailed by the presiding magistrates, both of whom enjoyed the senior Anderson's hospitality while they sat on his, and his son's cases. The bail of Anderson, Sr., was fixed at $4,000 and that of the murderer at $5,000. The character of the Anderson's makes people afraid of them, and the law is lax in its administration. The body of Price lay four hours after he was shot, nobody in that vicinity having the courage or kindness of heart to go to see him. I suppose four of the Anderson's cut a figure in this disgraceful fact. The Anderson's are defended by Judge L. W. Andrews, Judge E. C. Phister and Judge J. M. Alexander. County Attorney Givens, W. J. Hendricks, of Fleming, and J. Doule Smith, of Lexington, represented the prosecution at the examining trial. The Clark County Democrat, Thur 8-20-1879 Another account Tilton, Ky., August 16, 1879 Editors Clark County Democrat: Your account of the killing of O.W. Price, as copied from the Lexington Press, being somewhat inaccurate, and presuming that those of your readers who knew Mr. Price would be interested in knowing under just what circumstances he lost his life, I send you the facts as developed at the examining trial of Peter H. Anderson and his son Thomas, who are charged with the deed. The trial took place at Poplar Plains on last Tuesday and Wednesday, before Squires Hurst and Carpenter, who are the magistrates in that precinct. The Commonwealth was represented by T.L. Given, county attorney, assisted by W.J. Hendricks, of Flemingsburg, and J. Soule Smith, of Lexington; the defendants by Judges L.W. Andrews and J.M. Alexander, of Flemingsburg, and Hon. E.C. Phister, of Maysville. The case never had a parallel in this county, and our people are manifesting much interest and not a little excitement. A large crowd was present at the trial. The principal witness, those who saw the difficulty, were Dr. R.H. Yantis, and John D. Logan. These gentlemen testified that on last Friday evening, as Price was driving a spring wagon, loaded with hay, through the town of Poplar Plains, and when near the residence of Peter H. Anderson, who is a merchant and lives but a short distance from his store, Anderson, who was standing on the steps leading into the store, accosted him with "What are you gazing at me for?" If you want anything come down here, repeating the latter instance several times. Price responded by calling him "d _____d old thief." Anderson then threw a rock at Price, but missed him, where upon Price drew his pistol and fired at Anderson, though without effect. Thomas Anderson, who was in the store waiting upon a customer, hearing the pistol shot went to the door, and seeing his father and Price engaged in a difficulty, hastened back to where a shotgun was standing behind a door. Seizing this he ran to the street and instantly fired at Price, who was still upon his load of hay and driving off. The first shot missing its aim the other barrel was fired, a single buck shot striking Price about an inch above and behind the left ear. The wounded man fell from the wagon and was carried into the store room of Joseph Throop. From there he was carried to his home, which was but a few rods distant. He lived but two or three hours after being wounded, and during the time appeared wholly unconscious. Peter Anderson was admitted to bail in the sum of $4,000, E.A. Robertson, of Tilton, going on his bond. Tom gave a $5,000 bond for his appearance at the October term of our criminal court, and was released. Peter H. is his bondsman. I make no comment. Yours, Truly, M The Clark County Democrat, Wednesday, August 20, 1879 The trial of Peter and Thomas Anderson for the murder of O. W. Price last summer will probably be tried in the Fleming County Circuit Court, now in session. The Semi-Weekly Sun, Fri., 10-24-1879

Proctor, daughter	A New Albany special says "A very strange elopement and marriage took place in this city Thursday, the groom marrying his aunt and mother-in-law. Thomas A. Cook of Fleming county, Ky., 35 years old, and Mrs. Virginia Proctor, of the same county, aged 70, were the happy couple made husband and wife by Elder Wilson. Several years ago Cook married the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Proctor, his uncle and aunt. They lived happily together until a few months ago, when the wife died. Cook and Mrs. Proctor grieved so over the death of the wife and daughter that notwithstanding the disparity of their years, they were drawn together and the result was the marriage Thursday. Who will say the mother-in-law is not in it?" The Democrat, Wednesday, October 28, 1891.

Proctor, G. W.	Died;--At his home in this county, Wednesday, of paralysis of the stomach and bowels, G. W. Proctor, aged 80 years. He was a native of Jessamine county but had lived here for many years. His funeral was preached at the Church of Christ, on Fairfax street the next day by Eld. J. W. Harding. He had been a widower for many years and leaves but two children, George M. and Mrs. Joe L. Brown. Mr. Proctor had been a very successful man and left an estate valued at $150,000. By the provisions of his will, which was probated Monday, his son George is made executor without security, and is bequeathed his home place, on the Lexington pike, of 382 ½ acres, which is to account at the price of $90 per acre. His daughter, Mrs. Mary E. Brown, is given the value of the above land, $34,425 in money, to be held by her husband as her separate estate, and to be invested in land of her own selection. The remainder of the estate, including the live stock and household goods, are to be divided equally among them without sale. In case both son and daughter die without issue, the entire estate is to go to his son-in-law, Joe

Proctor, John R.	JOHN R. PROCTOR. John R. Proctor, president of the Civil Service Commission, died suddenly in Washington City on Saturday last. Kentucky lost Mr. Proctor and the Geological Survey, with which he was connected, because he was too independent and honest to be used by the Politicians. They wanted him to make his bureau a part of the democratic machine just as the other institutions of the State have since been made, but he refused, and the legislature of 1902 abolished the Survey by refusing to make an appropriation for its continuance. Theodore Roosevelt, while in Kentucky gathering material for his book, "The Winning of the West," was so favorably impressed with Mr. Proctor that he induced President Cleveland to appoint him on the Civil Service Commission. The State lost Mr. Proctor's services in the best work that has been attempted since its organization; but the Government was the gainer. A man of independence, ability and honesty stands a very poor show when he runs up against the democratic machine in Kentucky. The Sun-Sentinel, Thursday, December 17, 1903.
Proctor, Joseph	Death of Actor Joseph Proctor. Boston, Oct. 2.—Joseph Proctor, the veteran actor, died at 12:45 Saturday morning at his home on Columbus avenue after a long illness. Mr. Proctor was born in Marlboro, Mass., in 1816, and made his debut upon the stage in 1833, in Damon and Pythias. He had in his time played with all the stellar attractions of his early days. Edwin Forrest and the elder Booth gave him aid and encouragement. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, October 5, 1897
Proctor, L. J.	It is seldom that a household is called upon to mourn the loss of two immediate ancestors at the same time. Yet that is the case with the family of Dr. D. L. Proctor, of Mt. Sterling. Dr. Proctor's father died Tuesday at Proctor's Cave, Edmonson county and two days later. Mrs. Proctor's mother died in this county. A more extended notice of her death will be found in another place. Hon. L. J. Proctor was quite a noted man in his day and was the youngest member of the convention which framed the State constitution of 1850. As he was 76 years old when he died. It is probable that very few of his co-laborers on that occasion are now living. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, November 26, 1895

Prues, Harry	Mrs. Ballantyne's Dream. She Saw her Son Virgil Killed in a Railroad Wreck. Newport, Ky., Nov. 1.—Word was received in Newport Friday that the remains of two of the victims of Thursday's wreck on the C. H. & D. railroad, near Oxford, O., have been identified, and that they both were from Newport. The young men are Virgil Ballantyne, the 18 year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. A. Ballantyne, of 639 Monmouth street, and Harry Prues aged 19, a son of Mrs. Mary Prues, who lives at 845 Monroe street. The peculiar feature of the death of young Ballantyne is that his mother when informed of the death of her son told of a dream which she had had after reading of the wreck in which she saw her son among the dead. Young Ballantyne had gained some notice as a jockey, having had a number of mounts on local and foreign tracks. He had not been riding lately, and both he and young Prues were on their way from Middletown to Hamilton in search of work when they were killed. The Winchester Democrat, Friday, November 7, 1902

Pruitt, Mrs. Marshall	Mrs. Marshall Pruitt Passes away at an early hour Sunday morning after a short illness Many hearts were saddened Sunday by the announcement that as dawn ushered in the Sabbath morn, the spirit of Mrs. Marshall Pruitt had passed from time to eternity. For the past ten days she had been lingering on the brink of the grave, and while from the beginning of her illness, much alarm was felt, yet at times here friends were buoyed by the hope she would be victorious in the battle she so bravely fought, but it was an unequal struggle and Death became the victor. The death of one so young, only seventeen, and just when life seemed brightest, having been a bride only three months, is particularly sad, and the sympathy of the community is extended to the young husband and sorrowing relatives. She was a daughter of Mr. Philip Lisle, of the county, by whom she is survived, also by two sisters, Mrs. Sam Locknane, Jr., and Miss Myrtis Lisle, and two brothers, Leon and Harry Philip Lisle. The funeral was held at the Church of Christ on Fairfax street, yesterday afternoon at three o'clock with services by Eld. J.W. Harding and the interment was in the Winchester cemetery. Pryor, Roger Hanson	Two men killed Sunday afternoon at Grimes' Mill on the Clark and Fayette line, Jason Bentley, aged sixty-eight years, and Roger Pryor, aged forty-seven, fell out over a crop which Bentley's son was raising on Pryor's place. Shotguns were used and Pryor was instantly killed and Bentley mortally wounded. The verdict of the Coroner's jury over the body of Pryor decided that Bentley shot in self defense. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, August 2, 1910 Quarreled over crop Lexington, Ky. – As the result of a quarrel over the condition of a small crop of tobacco, Roger Hanson Pryor, aged 47, game chicken fancier, is dead and Jason W. Bentley, aged 66, farmer and miller, is probably fatally wounded. Bentley told Pryor he was harsh in his criticism of his son, Frank, and Pryor called the old man a liar. Bentley got a single barreled shot gun. Stepping about 30 feet from Bentley, Pryor raised his gun and fired. The load of birdshot struck Bentley in the abdomen. Pryor immediately fired the second barrel, and this stuck Bentley in the left hip. Simultaneously with Pryor's second shot Bentley fired. The charged went solidly into Pryor's abdomen and he fell forward upon his gun, expiring immediately. The verdict of Coroner Kiser's jury was that Bentley had killed Pryor in self defense. Pryor was widely known in the realm of American cock fighters. He was chiefly distinguished for his ability in pitting. The Winchester Democrat, Friday, August 5, 1910

Pryse, Llewellyne J.	Beattyville, Ky. A heavy shadow has fallen over Beattyville in the recent death of Llewellyne J. Pryse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Pryse. He was a State College student, having resumed his studies a few weeks since. Two weeks ago he was taken very ill with appendicitis; complications ensued and on April 1 st he died at the Good Samaritan Hospital in Lexington. His father, mother and brother, Wayne, were in devoted attendance upon him from the first notice of his illness, and on Saturday evening, April 2 nd , they sorrowfully brought back the tenantless body to the home from which he had gone so short a time before with the promise of a long life of usefulness before him. The funeral service was held on Easter Sunday afternoon in the Episcopal Church of which deceased was a member. Interment in the River View cemetery. The Sun-Sentinel, Thur., April 7, 1903

Puckett, B. V.	The Winchester Sun Mon., 1-13, 1-14-1975
Puckett, Banister	The subject of this sketch was a native of Estill county. He was a giant in strength and prided himself on his ability to whip any number of men that could get to him in a rough and tumble fight. The late Judge Robert Fluty who knew him well, told me of a number of incidents connected with Puckett's fighting career. About fifty years ago, at Elkins Mill (Vienna), in this county Puckett was engaged in one of the most terrific

	battles of his life. About the year 1855 he located in the southern part of Anderson county where he married a Miss Kaze. I was a small boy then and Mr. Puckett appeared to like me. At least, he petted me and in my childish fancy I looked upon him as a great hero. At almost every public gathering there would be a fist and skull fight with Puckett as the star performer. On one of these occasions he severely whipped a young man by the name of James Searcy. Some months afterward there was a sale on Beaver creek. Puckett was there as was Searcy. Searcy was a small man but had attained some reputation as a fighter, and was engaged at Dog Walk in a fight with the Millers, of Washington county, in which wounded. His life was despaired of for a time. Puckett walked to the spring about one hundred yards from where the sale was being held, and after getting a drink of water started to return when Searcy deliberately raised his squirrel rifle and shot him. The ball entered the lower part of the chest and went through the body. Puckett fell and everyone believed he would die in a short time. He was placed on a sled and taken to his home, and after a few months recovered. Later he was at a Logrolling at Frank Baxter's on Puncheon creek. As usual he got into a fight. This time it was with Mr. Baxter. He had Baxter down and was beating him when Baxter got out his knife and cut Puckett severely in a number of places. Puckett went to his home bleeding profusely. That night a shot was fired through the window of Baxter's house and Tobe Strange was hit in the shoulder. The parties rushed out but could find no one. It developed that the shot was fired by Puckett who mistook Strange for Baxter. He had gone home and gotten his rifle and walked two miles to Baxter's house, fired the shot and returned to his home, the wounds made by Baxter's knife bleeding all the time. Reaching home Puckett laid down on a trundle bed and died before daylight-bled to death. The war came on and Searcy became an outlaw, defying both the civil and military authorities. Near the close of the war he disappeared, no one knowing whether he was killed or left the country. Strange finally died from the wound inflicted by Puckett. The Sun-Sentinel, Thursday, December 24, 1903.

Puckett, David Lane	David Lane Puckett, 68, of Shelbyville, passed away on Monday, the 5th day of October, 2015, at Baptist Health Louisville, after a long battle with illness. A native of Winchester, Kentucky, he was preceded in death by his father, Carl W. Puckett. He and his family settled in Shelbyville, Kentucky, where he pursued a career in pharmacy. There is no measure to the impact David had on his community as a pharmacist. Graduating from Mercer University, he was a pharmacist at Smith-McKenney in Shelbyville. He went on to own the W. T. Froman Drug Company in Taylorsville, in partnership with Ben Scott. With business partner Brian Ullom, he also owned Rouben's Pharmacy in Louisville. His compassionate and caring nature served him and his customers well in his field, and he took great pride in providing care to the people and families of his community. He was an avid golfer and one of the few lucky enough to shoot a hole-in-one. He was a Christian by faith, and an enthusiastic UK Wildcat fan. A strong and devoted family man, he loved spending time with his wife, daughters, and family. One of his favorite pastimes was watching and rooting for his grandsons on the

	baseball field. As a former star pitcher and baseball player, he found great satisfaction and took justifiable pride in seeing them follow in his footsteps. He is survived by his wife, the love of his life and childhood sweetheart, Sydney Brock Puckett; his two daughters, Traci Puckett Ullom of Louisville and Rebecca Puckett Rice and her husband, Chris, of Columbus, Ohio; his five grandsons, who proudly carry on his legacy and tradition of a true gentleman, John Ullom, Max Ullom, Alex Ullon and Zach Ullom, all of Louisville and Foster Rice of Columbus, Ohio; his precious mother, Evelyn Puckett Palmer of Winchester; his two brothers, Carl D. Puckett and his wife, Sandra, of Winchester, and Mike L. Puckett and his wife, Jody, of Williamsburg, Virginia; his sister-in-law, Tonya Brock of Winchester; and numerous nieces and nephews, all of whom he loved dearly. Funeral services will be conducted at 2:00 P.M. Thursday, the 8th day of October, 2015, at Scobee Funeral Home of Winchester, with the Reverend Ed Mesta officiating. Interment will be the Winchester Cemetery. Visitation will be from 6:00 P.M., until 8:00 P.M., Wednesday, 7 October 2015, at the Hall-Taylor Funeral Home of Shelbyville, and from 12:00 noon until time of services on Thursday, 8 October 2015, at the Scobee Funeral Home in Winchester. The Winchester Democrat, Friday October 22, 1897 Mrs. Pullman's Allowance. Chicago, Nov. 25.—By the order of the probate court, Mrs. Hattie S. Pullman, widow of George M. Pullman, will receive $9,000 per month on account of her share of the estate. This amount is declared to be materially less than the actual income accruing to her from her division of the property left by the palace car magnate. In addition to the monthly payment authorized by the court, the account of the executors of the estate, showing that $80,734 had already been paid to Mrs. Pullman, was approved by Judge Kohlsant. Pumphrey, O. B.		Man Murdered in Louisville – Louisville, Oct. 15 – At 11 o'clock Thursday night the police found the body of O. B. Pumphrey, who was three ago a candidate for clerk of the city, lying in an alley in the East End. There was a large hole in the back of Pumphrey's head which the coroner decided caused his death. That official, after an investigation, reached the conclusion that Pumphrey was murdered. The man's clothes had been rifled and there was evidence of a struggle on the spot where he was found. The police have a clew to Pumphrey's murderer and hope to land him soon. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday October 19, 1897

Purkins, Richard	Murder in Lexington. Lexington, Ky., April 15.—At 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon G. A. Portwood shot and instantly killed Richard Perkins, saloonist, on account of an old grudge. Portwood was formerly marshall of Lawrenceburg, where he had several desperate shooting scrapes. He was always considered a dangerous man. Perkins makes the second man he has killed. He approached Perkins Thursday, and after a few words shot him in the forehead. After he fell Portwood fired four more bullets into Perkins' body. Perkins did not draw his weapon. The shooting occurred on Mill street, near the L. & N. station. Perkins was about 43 and leaves a widow. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, April 19, 1898 In the Lexington Circuit court Saturday Geo. A. Portwood, of Lawrenceburg, was convicted of the murder of Dick Perkins, two months ago, and was sentenced to be hung. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, June 14, 1898 Sentenced To Death.

Lexington, Ky., June 13.—The jury in the trial of George A. Portwood for the murder of Richard Purkins, after being out 19 hours, brought in a verdict of guilty, and fixed the punishment at death. An appeal will be taken at once. Portwood on May 14 shot and killed Richard Purkins, a paralytic saloon keeper, because Purkins had, a year or so ago, had him arrested for disorderly conduct. Insanity was the prisoner's plea. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, June 21, 1898

Sentenced to Be Hanged.
Lexington, Ky., June 1.—At 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon Circuit Judge Parker sentenced George A. Portwood to be hanged for the murder of Dick Purkins, in this city three months ago. The date of the execution is fixed for September 9. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, July 5, 1898

Sentenced to be Hung.
George Portwood, convicted in the Lexington Circuit Court of the murder of Dick Purkins, has been sentenced to be hung September 9th. An appeal will be taken which can hardly be heard before that time and a postponement of the execution is certain. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, July 5, 1898

Portwood Must Hang.
The Court of appeals in an opinion by Chief Justice Lewis Wednesday, affirmed the judgement of the Fayette Circuit Court sentencing George A. Portwood to hang at Lexington for the murder of Richard Purkins. Governor Bradley will fix the date of execution. The Winchester Democrat, Friday, October 11, 1898.

Portwood Must Hang.
FRANKFORT, Ky., Oct. 18.—The court of appeals, in an opinion by Chief Justice Lewis, Wednesday affirmed the judgement of the Fayette circuit court, sentencing George A. Portwood to be hanged at Lexington for the murder of Richard Purkins. Gov. Bradley will fix the date of the execution. Portwood's appeal was argued before the court about ten days ago by Judge George Denny, Jr., an insanity plea being his main defense. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, October 18, 1898.

Must Hang November 30th.
Geo. A. Portwood, who murdered Richard Purkins at Lexington, will hang November 30th. Governor Bradley on Saturday set the day of execution for Wednesday, November 30th and the death warrant is now in the hands of the Sheriff of Fayette county. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, October 25, 1898

Wants a Commutation of Sentence.
Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 15.—A strong effort is being made to secure a commutation of sentence for George Portwood, of Lexington, under sentence to be hung for killing Barkeeper Purkins last April. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, November 22, 1898

Death Watch Over George Portwood.
Lexington, Ky., Nov. 17.—The death watch has been places over George A. Portwood. He is condemned to be hanged on the 30th day of this month for the murder of Ruchard Perkins, of this city, last spring. When he went into the death cell he told the jailer that he did not wish to see any preachers or reporters; that he had his own idea of things on this earth, and he did not wish to be annoyed the few remaining days he has to stay here. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, November 22, 1898

Portwood's Wife.
She Pleads for the Life of Her Husband—Would Avert the Awful Disgrace to Their Children.
Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 22.—Mrs. Geo. A Portwood, wife of the condemned Lexington murderer, who is to be hanged on the 30th inst., arrived here Monday morning to petition Gov. Bradley to extend clemency and commute the sentence to life imprisonment. The governor granted her personal interview and will finally pass on the case within the next day or two. Mrs. Portwood makes a rather peculiar plea. She has been living apart from her husband for several years, and interests herself in the case only to prevent the disgrace that the hanging of Portwood would bring upon her and her two daughters. She told the governor that Portwood had expressed a desire to be hanged and that he was undoubtedly insane.

Wants a Commutation of Sentence.
Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 15.—A strong effort is being made to secure a commutation of sentence for George Portwood, of Lexington, under sentence to be hung for killing Barkeeper Purkins last April. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, November 29, 1898

Portwood's Sentence Commuted.
Lexington, Ky., Nov. 24.—The sentence of George A. Portwood, to have been hung here November 30 for the murder of Richard Purkins was Wednesday commuted by Gov. Bradley to life imprisonment. The Winchester Democrat, Tuesday, November 29, 1898

	The Rope Was Not Used Lexington, Ky., Dec. 8 The rope with which Clarence Williams is to be hanged at Paris on Monday was ordered by Sheriff Henry Bosworth of this county, for the execution of George A. Pursley, John G.	The Winchester Sun Mon., 8-3-1942
Pursley, John J.	Died, Maj. John J. Pursley, died at his home in this county Friday after a month's fearful suffering with throat disease. He was born in Trigg county, served in the Confederate army and was left wounded at Mr. Sam Woodford's, near Becknerville, about the close of the war. He afterwards married Miss Woodford and resided in Clark until his death. In 1879 he was elected Sergeant-At-Arms of the Kentucky Legislature and filled the position with great satisfaction to the members. Subsequently he ran for the Legislature, and in 1881, came within one vote of being elected Sergeant-At-Arms of the State Senate. He was a gallant, faithful Democrat, a whole souled, generous, big-hearted fellow, ever ready to help his friends. Hid faults will be forgotten while a sympathetic tear falls on his untimely grave, and his good qualities will live in the hearts of his friends as long as good deeds and noble actions are cherished.
